

Christmas Is for Children—Their Faces Show It

There's no one in the world who can enjoy the coming of Christmas more than the kids. To prove this point are the rapt expressions on the faces of these Pottstown tots as they take in all the glittering sights of the holiday season. In the upper left photo, 2½-year-old Stanley Glanski, 15 Riverside road Kenilworth is seen wishing for the toy locomotive which he thinks would fit well into his Christmas stocking. Probably the most bright-eyed youngster is 20-month-old Scott Johnson, 13 Union alley, who is really seeing all the sparkle of the season for the first time this Christmas, since he was born almost totally blind and it has been only recently that his sight was restored through a series of operations. At the lower right, 3-year-old Carole Ann Stifflet, tells Santa Claus what she'd like to have for Christmas—and it's a good bet her wishes will come true.

Sparkle in Eyes of Child Matches Glitter of Magic Christmas Season

Wide-eyed kids and the coming of Christmas go hand in hand as the sparkle in their eyes matches all the glitter of the magic season. But probably no Pottstown youngster has brighter eyes than 20-month-old Scott Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren H. Johnson, 13 Union alley, who this Christmas for the first time will be able to see all those things that have enchanted other children every year. Little Scotty, as his mother calls him, who was born almost totally blind, only recently has been given full power to see after five operations, the last of which he underwent about two months ago.

Prospects Appear Bleak for Settlement Of Neapco Strike

Prospects for an early settlement of the Neapco Products company strike looked bleak yesterday after a second conference with a Federal mediator. A company spokesman said two additional offers were made at the session in the Idle South and Cross streets plant. He reported the firm offered to grant employees who have been taken off regular jobs and put on lower paying jobs as a matter of expediency their base rate of pay received at regular work.

Also, the company offered to grant the top one-third of the rate range automatically. In the past an employee was guaranteed advancement from the minimum rate to a two-third rating in the various classifications at the end of one year.

Flagg's Union Names Election Candidates

Six nominees were named last night for four union posts to be filled at elections of Flagg Local 2326, United Steel Workers (CIO), next month. The only contest will be for the executive board where four men will vie for two posts. Entered in the race were Edward Shanely, Albert Fontana, Eugene Geiger and Louis Millard. The unopposed candidate for inside guide is David Richards; Geiger is the unopposed candidate for trustee.

2 Borough Agencies Plan Tax Check On Highest Exonerations in History

Two borough agencies expect to check over Pottstown's tax exonerations for this year, which are the heaviest in history. At its Monday night meeting, borough council exonerated Borough Tax Collector Thomas L. Rutter of $17,438 in uncollected borough occupation taxes. This is part of the $50,115 reported so far as not collected. The rest is in the school district's per capita tax ($10,710) and the school district's occupational tax ($21,967).

The $50,115 total does not include whatever property taxes are reported as uncollected. J. WAYNE KNAUSE, chairman of council's finance committee, said he expected that his group would review the exonerated borough taxes at its next meeting, which probably will be held next week.

Horace Y. Seidel, borough assessor, said he also would study the break-down of uncollected taxes and the reasons why they were not collected. Both men emphasized that while council exonerates the tax collector of the uncollected sums, it does not exonerate the taxpayers.

Boy Struck by Car, Treated at Hospital

A 2-year-old Franklin street boy was injured yesterday afternoon when he ran in front of a car on King street. Norman Rhoads, 831 North Franklin street, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard P. Rhoads, was treated in Pottstown hospital for cuts and bruises of the forehead. He was discharged after X-rays were taken. Walter P. Beck, 47 King street, told Patrolman Paul Smith he was traveling west on King street and just after he passed the intersection at Hanover street the little boy ran in front of his car. The boy made the jump from the northwest corner of the intersection. Beck picked up the child and drove him to the hospital.

Executives', Foremen's Club to Hear 'Red Hate' Talk

"The Communists Hate You" Pottstown Club will be the topic of Thomas Kaufman, of the public relations division, Allis Chalmers Manufacturing company of Milwaukee, Wis., when he speaks before the Pottstown Executives' and Foremen's club Friday night. Kaufman has been with Allis Chalmers for the past four years, and during that time has been editor of the company news publication as well as head of the speakers bureau and plant tour bureau. A graduate of the University of Wisconsin, where he majored in American institutions, Kaufman has presented many talks on this country's economic and political systems to religious, educational, industrial and service groups. The local organization's December meeting has been designated as "Past Presidents' Night" and will also feature a Christmas festival program.

Brookside Members Elect Their Officers

Brookside Country club's resident members returned two incumbent officers and two former governors to the board of directors and added one new member to the governing body at the annual election last night. Jacob R. Sotter, president, and Benjamin H. Longaker, secretary, were re-elected for three-year terms as directors. W. Kenneth Nichols and Elmer J. Jackson, former governors who were defeated at the past year's election, were returned to office. Voted in for his first three-year term on the board was William T. Beaver.

BROOKSIDE'S BOARD OF GOVERNORS has 15 members, of whom five come up for re-election each year. Of the other three men whose terms will expire this year, two declined to run for re-election. They are Larry F. Orgill and John W. (Continued on Page Fifteen)

Overcast Is Dispersed; Pleasant Day Results

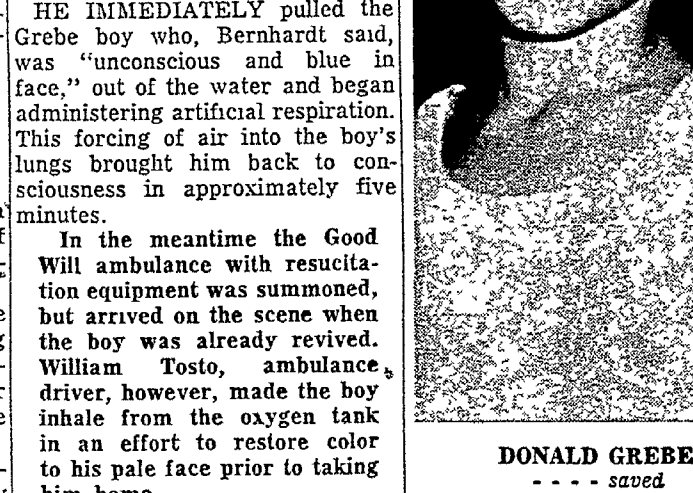

Pottstonians yesterday morning, who peered out of their windows at the overcast and decided to settle for snow, were pleasantly surprised when the sun broke through and the day turned out balmy. The coldest portion of the day didn't come until about 7 o'clock last night, when the mercury dropped to 47 degrees. People with snow-tread tires and heavy overcoats were beginning to lament their expenditures as housewives began to eye the print dresses and other light clothing stored until next summer. But an unappreciative weatherman has promised a change from the brief spell and says to expect fog, drizzle and showers throughout most of today.

Quick Thinking Saves Life Of Boy, 8, in YMCA Pool

The quick thinking and action of a 9-year-old Pottstown boy and a swimming instructor saved the life of a younger boy who came near drowning at the YMCA swimming pool yesterday afternoon. Eight-year-old Donald Grebe, son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Grebe, 431 King street, is alive now because Frank Thees, 119 North Evans street, who found him partially submerged in five feet of water, brought him to the surface and to the attention of Leonard T. Bernhardt, YMCA swimming instructor, who immediately administered artificial respiration. Bernhardt said the incident happened shortly after 5 o'clock just as he was preparing to instruct his learner's Swimming class in the pool. "I was walking along the edge of the pool towards the shallow end where the kids were when I saw the Thees boy holding up this other boy and calling for help," the swimming instructor related.

Speed Trap Catches 4 Local Motorists

One Pottstown and three area motorists were among the list of 14 violators whose names were disclosed last night by Raymond C. Kelley, Second ward justice of the peace, charged with speeding through a speed trap set up by borough police in a 35 mile per hour zone along West High street the past Monday. Kelley, who is sending the summonses on complaints made by Police Sgt. Daniel J. Linton, said the motorists face a $10 fine, payable within 10 days, or the option of requesting a hearing. He added, however, that if the violators do not respond within the specified time, warrants for their arrest will be issued and they will have to (Continued on Page Nine)

TB CHECK URGED FOR EMPLOYEES IN RESTAURANTS

Pottstown and Suburban Restaurant association will urge members to police themselves against the possibility of tuberculosis among food handlers here. This was reported yesterday by Mrs. Harold H. Wentzel, association president. The problem was raised recently at a health board meeting by Horace Y. Seidel, chairman of the Christmas Seal drive against tuberculosis, and Leona V. Smith, of the Visiting Nurse organization. They urged action to eliminate tuberculosis carriers from restaurants. Mrs. Wentzel said that, although she felt that Pottstown's restaurants were far above average from a health standpoint, she would urge members to extend their campaign against health dangers to the field of tuberculosis.

12 Home Owners Battle Borough on Costs of New Street

Twelve home owners have entered the battle against borough assessments to rebuild Wilson street in front of their homes. The 12 represent a solid two-block string of homeowners who purchased their properties several years ago and were told the borough would foot the costs of street and water main construction. The names of three residents were included on a brief filed by Norristown Attorney Thomas Jones and read to council Monday night. Names on the brief are James A. Hillbush, 577 Wilson street; John J. Holubowicz, 565 Wilson street; and William S. Frankiewicz, 553 Wilson street. This trio and the other nine home owners purchased their properties in the Brookside manor development from Builders Earl M. Kersletter and Anthony L. Veach. They were assured at the time of purchase by the builders the street and water facilities would be provided by the borough. Builders were given the green light on these conditions by council. Subsequent street legislation has been changed and under present laws the costs of construction are divided in equal thirds among opposing property owners and the borough.

Sewer Dispute Case On Lincoln Avenue Headed for Court

A 17-month Lincoln avenue sewer dispute will reach the boiling point at a preliminary hearing in Montgomery county court Friday. William H. Zeigler, 419 Lincoln avenue (front), has been directed to explain why James B. Scennely, 419 Lincoln avenue (rear), cannot run sewage through pipes in his basement. The preliminary hearing will be conducted by Judge Arnold Forrest. The Scennelys made a plea to Pottstown board of health this past Sept. 8 that sewer service be restored to their home. They pointed to the health menace which was created by the sewer was closed by Zeigler in the Summer. (Continued on Page Seventeen)

Bible Federation Has Christmas Program At Transfiguration

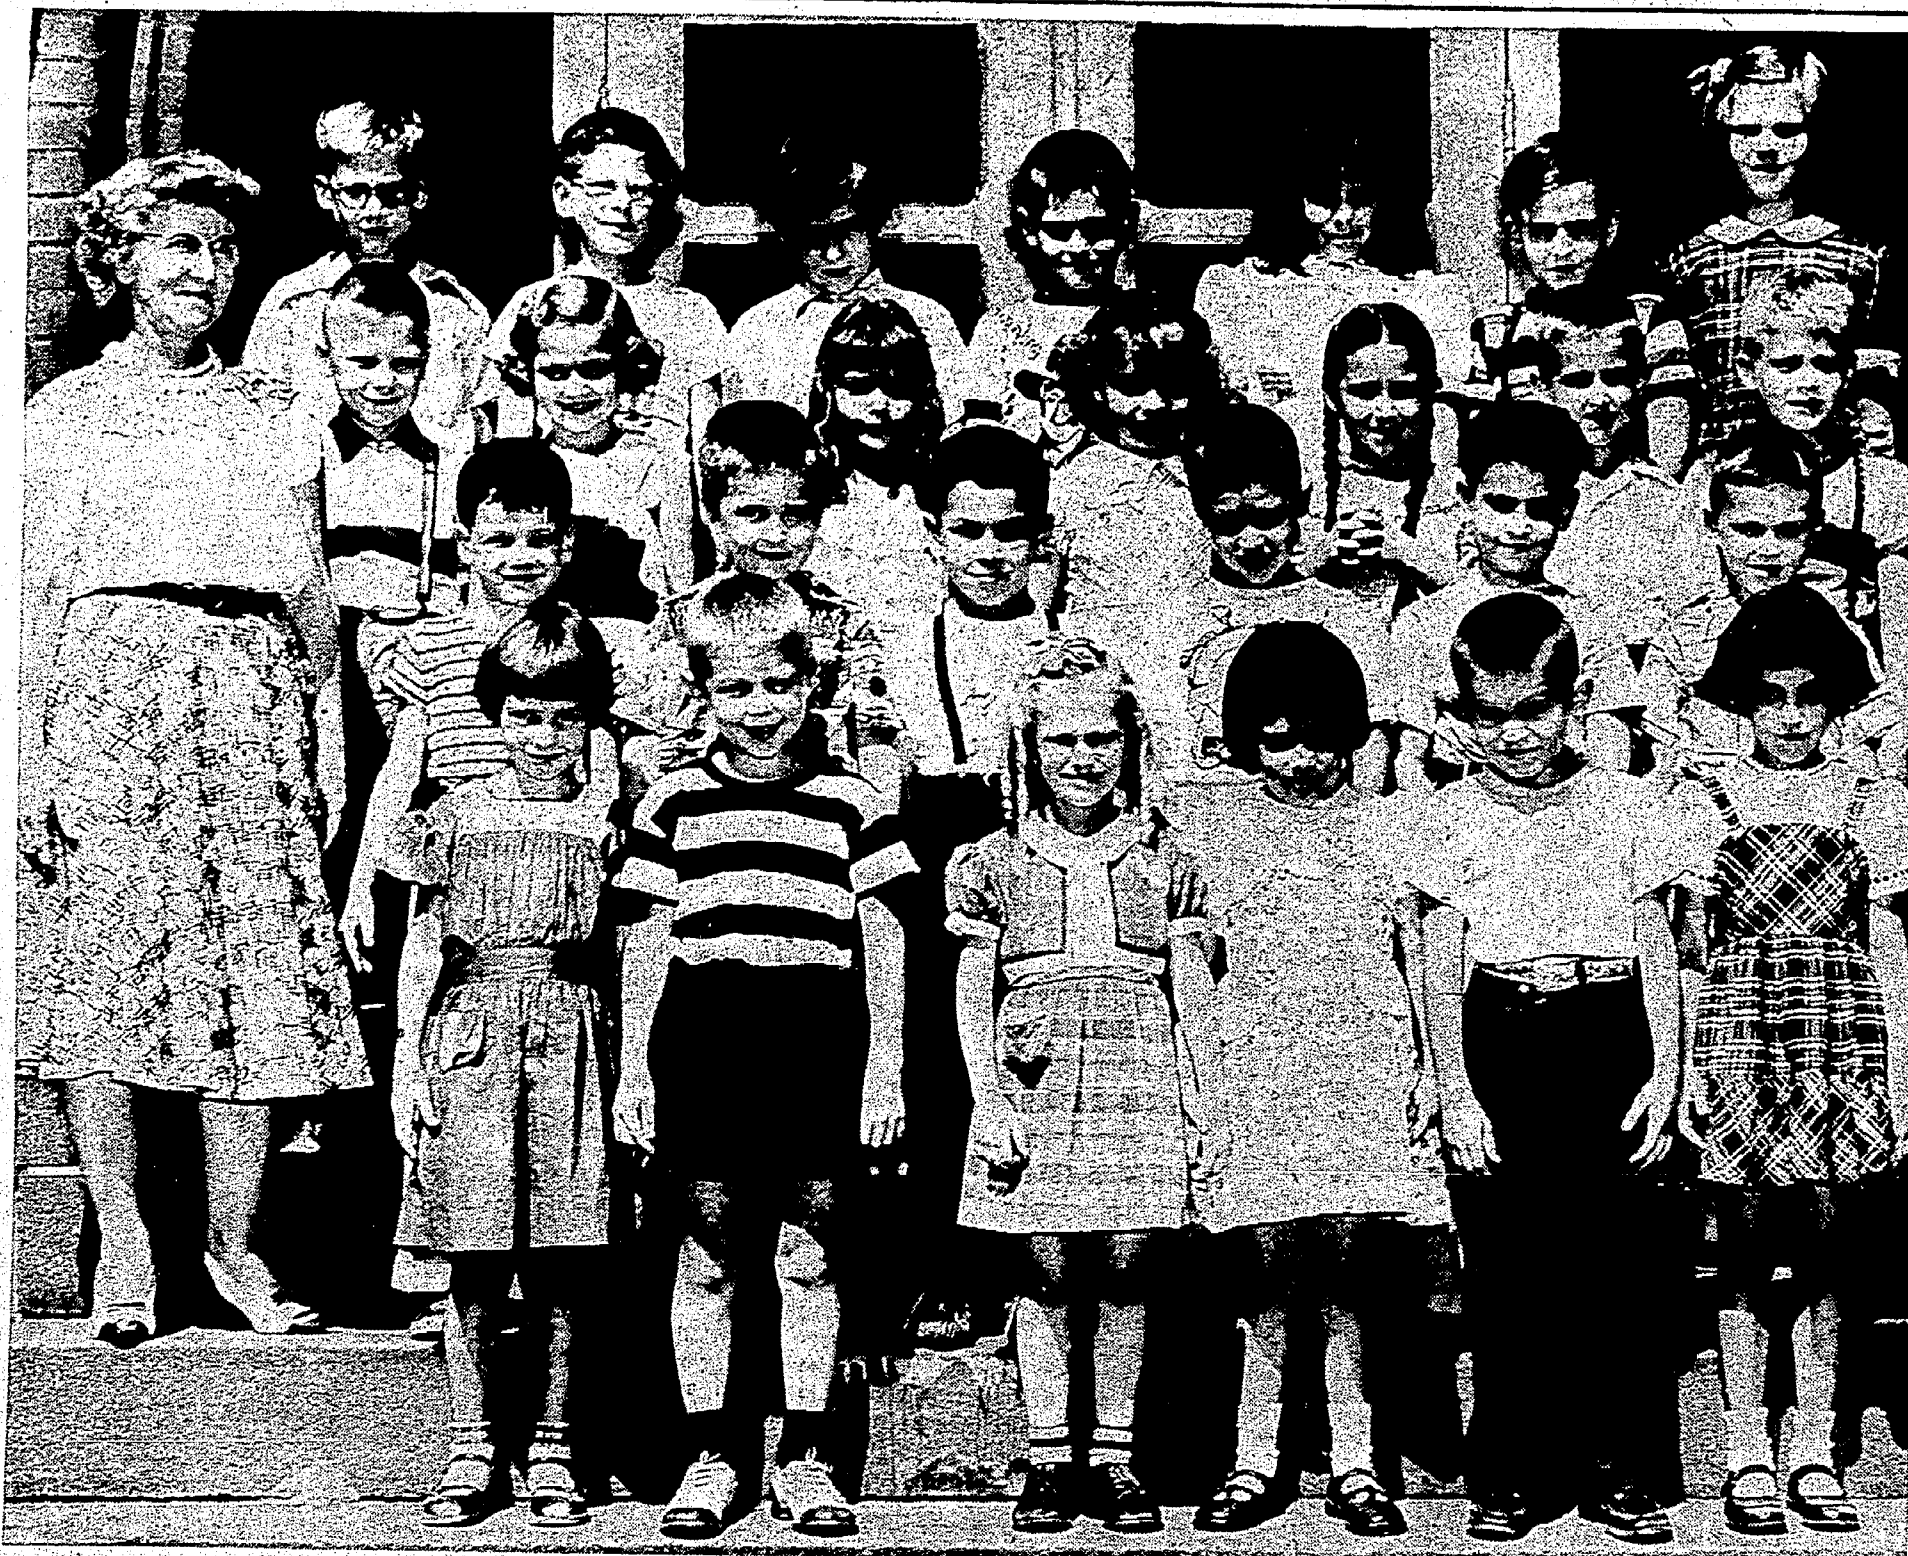

Men from 25 Pottstown area churches participated in a musical Christmas program at Transfiguration Lutheran church last night. After a service of carols and candles, 160 members of the Federation of Men's Bible classes heard a Christmas message by Dr. Gilbert L. Guffin, president of Eastern Baptist seminary, Philadelphia. "To those who sit in darkness there comes a light" was the theme of the guest speaker's address. Dr. Guffin told the Bible class members that the light he spoke of was the teachings of Christ. "IT IS a light that has shown down through the years," he declared. "It was kindled at Bethlehem 2000 years ago, and it still shines today. The darkness of war, tyranny and false teaching can not extinguish it." The candlelight service, symbolic of "the light of the world," was in charge of C. Russell Cannel, chorister, and the Rev. Laurence T. (Continued on Page Fifteen)

Pottstown's Finest

Hope for the future lies in Pottstown's schools. The Mercury is publishing pictures of Pottstown's finest, the children in our schools. Every day a new room of school children will be shown here. Save the series, and enjoy them anew in future years.

Three Bandits Rob York Trust Company

YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—Three bandits strolled into the East branch of the York Trust company shortly before closing time today, held a gun on two employees, scooped up $11,820 in cash and then made off in an old model car.

Harry P. Kissinger, vice president and treasurer of the main bank, said tonight that the money included five $100 bills and the rest was made up of 20s, 10s and 5s.

It was the first armed bank robbery in York county since 1929.

Only one of the three men was visibly armed. The trio made off headed north but State police reported finding trace of the getaway car after it left the bank.

The bank employees, one a branch manager, the other a teller, were the only ones in the office at the time of the holdup. They were forced into a storage closet while the three men collected the money.

Twin-Jet Plane Crashes Near Dallas; Pilot Killed

DALLAS, Dec. 9 (AP)—A Chance Vought twin-jet "Cutlass" crashed and burned about 9:30 a. m. today as it attempted to land at the Dallas Naval Air station. Witness said the pilot died.

Observers said the pilot barely cleared the fence to the airfield before one wing of the jet smashed to the ground.

Wreckage was scattered over a 300-yard radius.

The pilot was William Walker Sunday, 30, a native of Altoona, Pa., and a Chance Vought test pilot since 1949.

Red Skelton Undergoes X-Ray Exam in Hospital

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Dec. 9 (AP)—Red Skelton underwent X-ray examination today in the hospital where he is being treated for an upside-down stomach.

Results were not announced and doctors have not decided whether to operate. Red's nurse said the comedian's condition was good.

Dr. Stanley Immerman said Skelton, hospitalized yesterday, has what is technically known as a diaphragmatic hernia.

Commanding Officer Inspects Guard Unit

Members of Pottstown's National Guard unit were inspected last night by their commanding officer, Lt. Harold C. Baumann, who checked their individual weapons, personal appearance and the condition of their lockers.

Following the inspection, the men of Company A, 111th Infantry Combat team, were fingerprinted for records to be forwarded to Washington, D. C.

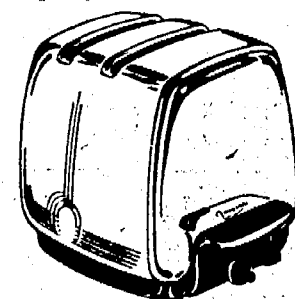

Instruction during last night's drill period consisted of a class in internal guard and sentry duty by Sgt. Gerald Landis; mechanical training in the M-1 rifle by Sgt. Robert Gible; mess meat cutting by Sgt. Forrest Drumheller; special weapons training by Sgt. Kenneth Herlinger; specialists training by Sgt. Kenneth Ingham; and basic communications training by Corp. William Silvano.

Christmas Program To Feature Voices Of Vocational Pupils

Boys of the Pottstown Senior High school Vocational department will officially participate in a choral program for the first time tomorrow night when the entire music department gives its annual Christmas program.

This new activity for vocational pupils is being allowed through a new policy established by Stanley I. Davenport Jr., principal, and Calvin J. Cressman, vocational director, in their effort to grant equal opportunities to all pupils.

The Vocational department boys to sing with the Boys' Glee club are Paul Saltzer, Sherman Robinson, Roger Weand, James Reidauer, Larry Lawler, Joseph Ondo, and Robert Hartman.

The mixed choir, now numbering 42 voices, will present a group of carols as well as the Ken Darby arrangement of "Twas the Night Before Christmas." All choral groups will be under the direction of Edward F. O'Neill.

LESTER F. C. SMITH will direct the band in seasonal music which will include LeRoy Anderson's "Sleigh Ride."

Feature of the program will be Britten's "A Ceremony of Carols" by the girls' chorus, assisted by Jean Moore Miller, concert harpist.

Attorney Asks Probe Of Prison Charges

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 9 (AP)—District Attorney James F. Malone asked the State Welfare department today to investigate charges that degeneracy and gambling flourish within the walls of Western State penitentiary in Pittsburgh.

The charges were leveled by Virgil Toney and Nick Derembeis, two of eight recaptured convicts who escaped the prison Nov. 30.

The accusations were made while Malone questioned seven of the convicts. The other escapee, Andrew L. White, is in the custody of Selston, Va., police who captured him Saturday.

In Harrisburg William C. Brown, State welfare secretary, said "a full scale investigation is already underway."

"Two special investigators from the Department of Welfare's division of investigation flew to the Western State penitentiary early Monday morning," Brown said in a statement answering a letter he received from Malone.

Pottstown's Prides

Another in the series of beautiful homes that make Pottstown warm

At this home of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Watkins, 517 Grant street, the kind of steady work that helps make a house into a home is very much in evidence, inside and out. The home was finished in September, 1951, by Walter Gollub, Pottstown and Sanatoga contractor. The past summer, Watkins finished the unfinished upstairs, making it into two bedrooms and a bath. He's also started a recreation room in the full basement. The outside has cement stucco made of pure-white materials. The metal awnings are blue and white. the roof bluish. Those wheels by the front steps are from a horse and buggy. Downstairs is the living room (at left), 15 by 12 feet, two bedrooms, bath and kitchen. Behind the house is a big lawn put in by Watkins. He is a drill operator for Bethlehem Steel company. That's Mrs. Watkins out front.

Transportation Case Ends in Philadelphia

HARRISBURG, Dec. 9 (AP)—The longest Philadelphia Transportation company rate case in history came to a close today as argument ended before the Public Utility commission.

Hamilton J. Connor, PTC attorney, in asking PUC approval for a $5,171,000 a year rate increase, declared that present revenues of the firm are "totally inadequate."

William T. Coleman Jr., special deputy to the Philadelphia city solicitor, countered that the company's net and gross income both have increased rather than diminished as the PTC had predicted.

The PUC must hand down a decision by Jan. 1 when a nine-month suspension of PTC's proposed fare increase ends. The company plans elimination of a 13-1/3 cent token and establishment of a 15 cent basic cash fare.

The money to build Balmoral Castle in Scotland was willed to Queen Victoria by a wealthy subject, says the National Geographic Society.

Alarm Is Broadcast For Veteran of 3 Wars

BELLINGHAM, Mass., Dec. 9 (AP)—Police today broadcast a three-State alarm for Wilfrid Varieur, 73-year-old veteran of three wars who has been missing since Saturday afternoon.

Varieur who frequently walked the three and half to four miles from Bellingham to Woonsocket, R. I., was described as a rugged 190 pounder, 5 feet, 9 inches tall.

He served in the Army in the Spanish-American War, on the Mexican border and in World War I.

Board Hears Report On Green Lane Dam

Upper Hanover Road board President Harvey A. Schwoyer last night reported on the State Power and Water Resources board hearing for the proposed $4,200,000 dam in Green Lane.

The hearing was held in Harrisburg yesterday. Schwoyer made a brief report of proceedings at the December session of supervisors in Perkiomen Heights hotel.

Members discussed the washouts in township roads caused by the past week's heavy rains.

The president reported the next meeting of the board will be held on Jan. 5, a reorganization session, in Palm hotel. All meetings for the first half of 1953 will be conducted in Palm hotel while second half sessions will be held at Perkiomen Heights hotel. Supervisors Clyde J. Ackerman and Charles E. Keck were present.

No Reason for 'Secret Blitz'

SHADES of the secret police!
Lots of nice things might be said about the community census planned by the Pottstown school board for the Spring.
But nothing praiseworthy can be said of the method.

At the suggestion of Dr. George A. Mc-Cormick, superintendent of schools, the Pottstown school board approved a "surprise" canvass of the borough. This canvass was to enumerate the population.

Dr. McCormick asked the board to approve a plan to have local teachers make the canvass on a school day he could choose on short notice and WITH-OUT PUBLIC ANNOUNCEMENT!

One reason for this surprise blitz, it was said at the school board meeting, was to keep Pottstown people at home.

If the date were announced, it was said,
"residents unwilling to be put on tax rolls would be able easily to be 'not at home' when the census-taker called!"

That certainly puts an ugly stamp on Pottstown's people!

Are they all crooks? Are they all taxevaders?

Do Pottstown citizens have to be investigated by the secret police? Shall an OGPU be organized among school teachers to peep into Pottstown's living rooms?

This might be carried a little further by organizing school children to spy on their elders and report to the school head!

There's no necessity for this secret blitz. There's no reason for withholding from the public announcement when the canvass is to be made.

POTTSTOWN PEOPLE ARE NOT CROOKS! THEY DON'T NEED TO BE "SURPRISED" SO THEY CAN'T HIDE AWAY!

In the first place, the idea that there are large numbers of Pottstownians not on the tax rolls is fallacious. Pottstownians are inherently honest, truthful and straightforward.
They have been honest when assessors made calls.

It is true some transients who merely board here are not on the rolls. But citizens who have their taxes here are pretty well enumerated. There can't be great numbers dodging taxes. The town's too small for that sort of evasion!

Secondly, Pennsylvania law declares it is incumbent on the taxpayer to place his name on the taxrolls.

This law, passed at the 1951 session of the Legislature, not only makes it mandatory for the taxpayer to seek out the assessor, but says school districts can collect two years' tax if the law isn't complied with. The law gives the taxpayer reaching his majority, or the adult moving into the school district, 12 months to place his name on the tax-roll.

If this were publicized properly by tax-collecting agencies it might bring as good results as a Gestapo-like investigation suggested by Dr. McCormick.

It wasn't like the upstanding Pottstown school board to fall for such a SURPRISE BLITZ proposal. It wasn't like the directors to pull an undercover deal.

It's likely they didn't give this "unannounced" drive too much thought.

In the past, the young, intelligent, honest school directors eschewed secret meetings, secret-dealings, under-the-table deals.

In fact, they voted down a proposal that a prospective teacher who wanted $200 more than the usual starting pay, be given an extra $200 in the form of extra pay for assisting in athletics.

The Pottstown school board has been straightforward in all its dealings. It has had nothing to hide.

So it's astonishing that they fell for this unannounced, secret blitz!

But there's one salvation. They have time to reconsider. They still can order that the public be acquainted with the exact day and time when the enumeration will be made.

It'll sit better with the public, and with the school teachers who have to do the work, if the school directors 'change their mind and order this, too, to get the full light of publicity!

Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, I see by the papers where the 1953 castor oil quota will be raised, the Department of Agriculture announces. This sounds like bad medicine for any aggressor!

Quota was raised because jet aircraft consume so much of the stuff.
So space ships no longer use up the castor oil supply!

Metropolitan grand opera performances!

People Are Inconsiderate

To the Editor: The snow may be melted from the pavements of the borough and this may be a little late to complain but I want to know why people can be so inconsiderate as to leave the snow lay on the fronts of their properties until the pedestrians wear it away.

Not only is this inconvenient to the pedestrians, but also dangerous. A person could slip on the ice which forms after the snow and break a leg or an arm. Then the owner or resident of the home would be liable for the damages.

For a little elbow grease the owner of property can be doing himself and the pedestrian a favor. I hope the pavements will be safer after the next snow than they were after the past week's storms.

High street SLIPPERY

Police Should Check

To the Editor: The police should do something about people who leave snow and ice on their pavements until the sun melts it away. After the past two snow storms here I had to walk cautiously over most pavements in the borough.
I've seen borough police officers tiptoe over the same icy pavements to tag

a ticket on an automobile for overpark-

If I were a policeman, I think I'd tag the occupant of a house with ice on his pavement before I would bother issuing an overparking ticket.

I haven't been in Pottstown long, but I feel sure there must be some ordinance against allowing ice to remain on pavements without making an attempt to remove it.

Pottstown police should look for other things besides meters with "violation" sticking in them especially after a snow storm.

Is Norco Uninterested

To the Editor: What is the matter with the people of North Coventry Township?

Thursday night our new elementary school was dedicated and 1400 invitation were sent out. Only 200 persons were interested enough to come out.

We have a beautiful school, one to be mighty proud of, and still our parents are not interested enough to come to its dedication.

We complained about our old fashioned one-room schools that our children had to attend, now parents show your appreciation of our new school by coming out to school affairs, getting acquainted with your school directors, principal, and above all—your child's teacher.

You have a big investment in your most precious gift, your child, so take time out to enjoy them in the happiest time of their lives, their school days.

WASHINGTON Hunt For Communists To Continue Under Ike

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The controversial Congressional hunt for Communists and fellow-travelers within the Government will continue under the Eisenhower Administration as a result of post-election revelations, despite his pledge to rout the Reds from Washing-

Disclosures by a New York grand jury and the McCarran Committee, which far surpass Senator Mc-Carthy's most sensational charges, have given a new twist and direction to the search, however.

With undeniable proof, they have shown that, partially through State department connivance, many subversives have been infiltrated into key policy-making spots inside the United Nations and its overseas auxiliaries.

As a result, the McCarran-McCarthy spotlight will now be directed toward the vast establishment which the State Department, the Mutual Security Administration, the Commerce Department, Treasury and the Point Four Agency have built up around the globe. It will turn on the foreign personnel who hold sensitive posts in the "cold war."

DANGEROUS SITUATION ABROAD:
It is estimated that more than 300,000 people are employed in this far-flung, foreign and army. They handle or advise on the expenditures of many billions annually, all of which is designed to strengthen the free world against the Russian menace.

They occupy important in the international world. They are well paid, enjoy unusual privileges and are almost immune from control or supervision.

Both their policies and their behavior have brought many complaints from foreign sources, public and private.
Visiting businessmen and members of Congress have questioned both their methods and objectives. Many have had to be recalled, transferred or fired.
There have been numerous charges that they are making enemies rather than friends for the United States.

As he did with respect to the UN staff members accused by the grand jury and Senator McCarran of disloyalty, Acheson has shown utter indifference to this dangerous situation abroad.

STATE DEPARTMENT APPOINT-EES: Thousands of members of the overseas army were appointed on the advice and recommendation of the State Department, which has always sought to keep a firm grip on rival agencies in the foreign field.

Many were transferred after World War II from the Office of Strategic Services and Office of War Information, which were frequently accused of utilizing Communists. There was hardly any "screening."

In those days, of course, when Russia was our ally against Hitler, Red propagandists, resistance leaders and provocateurs made excellent agents for us inside enemy countries. But the current belief—and fear—is that they managed to smuggle themselves into these new, postwar agencies, as they did into the UN.

REORGANIZATION RECOM-MENDED: The task of cleaning them out in European capitals, as well as in remote, backward and underdeveloped countries—from London to Karachi—will undoubtedly require more resources and funds than the McCarran or McCarthy Committees possess.

So, the present proposal contemplates creation of a Congressional or Presidential Commission to reamine and re-organize the vast overseas organization thrown together by Messrs. Acheson, Harriman, Hoffman et al.

Only a thorough housecleaning of this kind will prevent a collapse of the international structure of world peace and collective security.

There'll be no fuss about the John-

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

WHEN JUDY was nine years old, she went out to Gary with her Grandmother.

On their return to Chicago, they rode the bus. It was rather crowded, so they didn't get to sit together. Judy sat beside a young man who was smoking.

"It took me a long time to get up my nerve," Judy confessed to her mother at bedtime last night, "but I finally nudged him and told him he shouldn't smoke."

"He asked me why, so I told him he was just burning up money! Besides it wasn't good for him. But he kept on smoking, anyway."

"Then an old man got on the bus, and there weren't any seats, so he was standing beside us. I told the young man he should get up and give his seat to the old man, and he did."

Since Judy has focussed attention on this smoking problem, I shall briefly outline the medical and psychological effects of tobacco.

IT SEEMS to cause varied physiological effects on people. Some seem much more sensitive to it than others.
Tobacco is listed as one of the causes of the thickening of the walls of the blood vessels (Buerger's disease) which becomes so serious in many people as to obliterate the vessels entirely.

Thus, it isn't uncommon to find smokers who must have their legs amputated because the arteries aren't carrying enough blood to the feet to prevent the development of gangrene.

THE CORONARY arteries that nourish the heart also seem readily affected by tobacco, so we doctors take such patients off their cigarettes or cigars, at least in so far as possible.

After people begin smoking, however,
the habit develops and demands future indulgences. In breaking the smoking habit, moreover, it isn't enough to try to combat the chemical hunger.

In breaking the tobacco habit, therefore, let them use candy mints or gum and go through many of the same muscular actions with the latter. Thus, they can still expend energy sans tobacco.

Prisoners working with Jim Moran (Bill O'Dwyer's former pal) says he's taking it hard, may crack up.

MAGGIE McNELLIS will beam
her luncheon radio show from the St.
Moritz starting Dec. 15. . . Eddie Foy Jr. is in Harkness Pavilion with ulcers. . . Distaff-side sidewalk superintendents found a W. 57th street picket line irresistible the other afternoon. One of the strikers (for an embroidery union) kept her hands as active as her feet—she crocheted as she sashayed along with her sister pickets. What the lady passersby were all agog about was the old new stitch she kept using! . . . The Jerry Adlers (he was the "Gents Prefer Blondes" stage manager before Uncle Sam put him in khaki, she's premiere of her first film starrer

"Come Back Little Sheba" on Dec.
22. The top names in show business will be on hand to congratulate her at a push private shindig on Sardi's second floor at midnight, since her "Time of the Cuckoo" assignment will prevent her attending the gala showing of the picture.

The gem on Claude Cartier's arm

BLOODLESS SURGERY—Dr. John

a clinic in Philadelphia where Dr. Lor-formed his bloodless surgery operation on a number of patients.

STEAL SHOES—Thieves broke into the shoe maker shop of David Gresh, Little Oley, and stole four pairs of shoes and had them mended, also a razor and some tools, including an awl. Gresh believes his fierce watch dog knew the intruders for the canine did not make a

BASKETBALL—Pottstown loses its professional basketball team due to lack of support. Manager Tony Stephens reports his team, the Pottstown Aces, is through. He lost $100 in the last game and three previous games played here were also money losers. The Aces team has made a fine showing but receipts at the box office have been very low.

FREE AGENT—Earl Potteliger is now a free agent in baseball for the first time in 14 years. He is no longer manager of the Wilkes-Barre team of the Pennsylvania - N. Y. league. "Pottie," however, continues as a coach for the N. Y.
Giants football team and he is making good there.

whiz kids when they won honors in a contest in which questions regarding government were asked at a meeting of the American Business Club at the Elks Home.

DISCUSS LEAGUE—Plans for the formation of a YWCA of a basketball league for women employed in local plants were discussed last night. Representatives of workers at the Flag plant, also the Quality Knitting company and New England Auto Products company were present also Mrs. Harry Mentzer, Mrs. Eva Shenk, Mrs. Edna
Eagle and Mrs. Alex Tisdale.

ANNUAL CHIMNEY SWEEP

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

Dr. Zukoski Returns . . . So Does Jack Preston . . .

★ NOT JUST HALF A CHRISTMAS—
Dr. Joseph Zukoski, 216 Beech street, who was Pottstown public school physician before he was recalled to active duty with the Navy a year ago (he's a lieutenant), is on his way home from Japan and should be here by Christmas, his wife was notified recently. He's been seven months overseas as ship doctor on the USS Algon, a freighter, which has gone to Japan, China, Korea and the Philippines. He was recalled to active duty Dec. 1, 1951. He was home for a few hours to pass Christmas Eve but then had to go back to Washington, D. C., early Christmas morning, leaving behind his wife and two children, Mary Jo, now 7, and Suzanne, 2. This time, he'll be home on a 30-day leave. He's due at Long Beach, Calif., on Tuesday. Dr.
Zukoski has a year more to serve. He doesn't know where he'll be assigned after his leave.

ODDNESS—If you should see oncoming trucks blinking their lights like crazy when you're on High street or North Charlotte street, you can be pretty sure that they're signaling a warning that police are operating the speed trap there. Truckers use the same signaling system to warn other truckers that State police have set up a weighing point down the pike. . . Pottstown's Mrs. Green murder case of 1946 gets a chapter in Erie Stanley Gardner's recently-published book, "The Court of Last Resort," about the agency that joined The Mercury's drive to help
Gerald C. Wentzel. In the book, Gardner calls Wentzel, Richard Roe, but follows the facts of the case
rather closely otherwise.

★ HONOR—Albert J. Impink Jr., son of
Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Impink Sr., 623 Spruce street, has been named in "Who's Who Among Students," a compilation of university and college topnotchers for 1952. Impink is a senior mechanical engineering student at Villanova. He was graduated from St. Aloysius parochial school and The Hill. . . Three Pottstown area students at Bob Jones university, Greenville, S. C., who will attend a conference on education for democracy
there are Ralph S. Keen, and Kenneth L.
Keen, sons of Mrs. Ralph S. Keen, Pottstown RD. 2, and Earl Bittenbender, son of Mrs. Lottie Bittenbender, Boyertown RD. 1. . . Former Pottstown High athletic star, John M. "Jack" Preston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley "Steve" Chaplin, former Shuler house proprietor, landed in California yesterday and is on his way home. He was in the air force, was in Pacific waters since August. His parents now live in Kennett Square.

SHOPPER—Pic. Charles D. Ital-loway Jr., 17 West Fourth street, had an opportunity to do his Christmas shopping in Japan when on a five-day rest leave there. He's a heavy machine gunner who has seen almost six months' action in Korea. . .
The world's first Christmas card was designed in 1842 by William Maw Egley Jr., a 16-year-old engraver's apprentice. It is now on display at the British Museum in London. . .
While you're driving, think of this:
More Americans will lose their lives next year in auto accidents than were lost during the past 75 years in 36 major disasters resulting from fire, flood, storm, earthquakes and explosions.

★ DEAR SANTA—I've been a good boy and I want a magic lantern with a kerosene lamp, and a red locomotive that runs by itself from a weighted fly wheel you get running by shoving it along the carpet, a pop gun and a Daisy air rifle and a bow and arrow set, and a Hor-atio Alger book or Tom Swift and his Motorcycle, and a hobby horse with a twining mane, and no coal in my stocking this year." Say, what is this? Sounds like the letter's a trifle old. But some folks can remember back far enough. . .

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THE COMMON cold is not really caused by cold temperature, though many people think it is because they may have caught cold after being chilled.
Many also suffer from severe, frequent,
and repeated colds in winter.

We believe that colds are caused by a virus, or type of germ. People in the Arctic rarely if ever have colds, as the germ cannot live there.

Many causes have been blamed for frequent colds, such as lowered resistance, eating improper foods, and ex-posure to dampness.

Some people, however, do react to cold temperature in a way that closely resembles a cold. This is not a true cold, but an allergy to temperature.

These people may complain of frequent colds. Actually they are allergic to some specific substance around them, but are not affected by it until a certain temperature is reached.

Some do not suffer from their allergy unless the room is too warm. Others are sensitive only when the temperature drops too low. Usually such people are very sensitive to abrupt temperature changes.

The symptoms are limited to the cold months or winter, and become worse during that time. The victim may think he has sinus trouble, bronchitis, or even "winter hay fever."

Most often he is allergic to some type of food, and the signs of a cold usually start within 30 minutes after eating. The most common foods that give a temperature allergy are corn, coffee, eggs, wheat, and many grain products. Many, however, have a temperature allergy to house dust.

US NAVY PLANES HIT NORTH KOREA RAIL JUNCTIONS

Biggest Carrier Strike Includes Raid Near Siberia

SEOUL, Wednesday, Dec. 10 (AP)—US Navy planes blasted four big North Korean rail junctions Tuesday—one of them only 12 air miles from Soviet Siberia—in the biggest carrier strike of the Korean War. It also was the northernmost bombing raid of the war.

The Navy announced that bombers from the carrier Essex virtually destroyed the vital rail trunk junction at Honyung, through which Communist supplies flow southward from Manchuria and Russian Siberia.

Other US fighter-bombers wiped out rail lines and supply dumps at Musan, Magin and Hyesanjin.

THE NAVY sent 352 individual flights roaring out against the Communists.

Navy pilots said the vital rail trunk at Honyung was wiped out completely. The rail yards lie in the heart of the border city.

Honyung is at the northeastern tip of the Korean strip which thrusts far north of the rest of Korea. Communist Manchuria surrounds this strip on three sides.

Honyung is close to Soviet Russian territory and is almost as far north as the Russian port of Vladivostok, which lies to the east.

The border city was described as blacked out by smoke.

Fighter-bombers bombarded the big rail center at Musan, also near the Manchurian border.

Musan is southwest of Honyung. It was hit hard earlier this year.

Skyraiders, Panther jets and Corsairs hit Musan in morning and afternoon raids. They destroyed locomotives, boxcars and buildings.

Propeller-driven planes destroyed a large part of Hyesanjin and smashed the water works system there.

Six buildings in a factory section were destroyed at Hyesanjin. Eight buildings and a railroad turntable were destroyed at Musan.

PLANES FROM the carriers Bon Homme Richard and Oriskany piled more damage on the Communist centers. They struck in an icy wind.

The commander of Task Force 77, which set a record for the number of Navy flights against the Reds in Tuesday's raid, messaged "well done" to his pilots. He said "the enemy has suffered heavy damage."

Japan based B-29 Superforts swept deep into the northwest corner of Korea last night to attack for the first time an industrial area at Yonkpong, five miles south-east of the Suho reservoir on the Yalu river.

In the air, a sharp-shooting Royal Air force pilot flying a US Sabre jet downed a Communist MIG in an aerial duel near the mouth of the Yalu river frontier of Manchuria.

The Air Force credited Flight Lt. Graham F. Hulise of Hanley, Stratfordshire, England with downing the Red jet—the ninth destroyed in three consecutive days of air battles.

The Air Force said Hulise now is credited with 1½ MIGs destroyed, a propeller-driven Zero probably destroyed and a Zero damaged.

Championship Collies To Spark Children's Christmas Party

A dog show by a championship team of collies will highlight the Christmas party for underprivileged children to be given by Pottstown Junior Chamber of Commerce on Friday at 6:30 p. m. in the Elks home, it was announced yesterday.

Robert Zarger, entertainment committee head, said 50 children and 30 Jaycees will attend the party. In addition to animals, there will be a dinner, movies and games, plus a Santa Claus with toys for all the young guests. Herbert Maack is general chairman.

The team of collies is from the Berks County Dog Training club. It has won obedience trials at virtually all major dog shows in the Eastern United States. Among the firsts it won was one at Teaneck, N. J., considered the "World Series" of obedience trials.

Besides the collie teams, club members will show other breeds ranging from Great Danes to spaniels to mongrels.

CHILDREN WILL be driven from their homes to the party by a committee headed by Earl Keiser. Other committee heads are: Harold Eschbach, reception, and James Christman, food.

The children are selected by the Salvation Army, Family Welfare society and Visiting Nurse association.

Man Gets Sentence To Learn Respect For Berks County

A Berks county judge imposed an additional two-and-one-half to five-year sentence on a 33-year-old Baltimore man, now serving time for burglary in Montgomery county, to teach him "respect for Berks county."

Judge Warren K. Hess imposed the additional sentence on Kenneth R. Dries, formerly of Emmaus, who pleaded guilty on Aug. 29 in Montgomery county to charges of burglary.

and larceny in thefts from high schools in Pottstown and East Greenville and from the Boss Manufacturing company in Palm.

Earlier this week, Dries pleaded guilty to charges of burglarizing four Berks county high schools and the Washington Dairy in Washington township. The crimes, committed in 1951, netted Dries about $1500.

IN IMPOSING the sentence,

Judge Hess said he was taking recognition of the penitentiary term levied by Montgomery county Judge William F. Dannehower.

Dries was arrested on Aug. 2 by Jeffersonville State police following the robbery of the Boss company. He admitted the other thefts after his arrest.

WHAT THE V.F.W. MEANS TO THE OVERSEAS VETERAN

As One Who Hates War . . .

You know from personal experience that the man with the best gun or hand grenade—and covered with the best air, tank or artillery support—has the best chance to survive in war.

You know enough about war to know this same basic fact applies to nations—as well as men.

You must agree that the best and cheapest way to insure our peace is to make Russia too scared of our great strength to start another war.

As a member of the V.F.W., you will be giving added "voice power" to the organization when it asks Congress for Armed Forces second to none in potential size and punch. You will be supporting the V.F.W. fight against those who refuse to understand that weakness invites attack—and that the Communist world is ready to pounce upon any country that is not ready to meet force with force.

Police Capture Seven At Devon After Chase

DEVON, Dec. 9 (AP)—Seven guys who left their dolls at home were arrested today after a bullet-punctuated police chase and the Chester county district attorney said he ordered warrants charging them with planning to hold up a floating crap game near Downingtown.

Police pursued a speeding car through the Main Line area west of Philadelphia early today and brought it to a wobbly halt at Devon after one shot punctured a tire. Six men climbed out of the automobile and one said, "boy, are we glad to see you."

This spokesman for the little group went on to explain that he and his companions had started out about midnight to attend a floating crap game. They went to a pickup spot, he said, to meet the car that was to take them to the night's (or morning's) entertainment.

Instead of being driven to the crap game, he insisted, the six men were "kidnaped."

The driver of the car, who fled into the underbrush when the car was stopped, was picked up and gave his name as Charles Kesselman, 40, of Stonehurst Hills, near Philadelphia, police said. In the sedan were found four pistols, a blackjack, several masks and from the pockets of the seven men was collected more than $2700 in cash.

mately 18 by 15 feet.

Wood-is replacing metal under the roof at the northwest corner of the church, where an old, rusting cornice is being replaced with a wooden one.

KULP EXPLAINED that when that cornice was put in, metal could be bought and shaped for much less than a woodwork cornice could be. Today, he said, the reverse is true. Norris E. Ottlinger, carpenter-contractor, will make the new cornice.

The two projects will cost in the neighborhood of $1500.

Another project to be done in the near future will be the painting of the outside of the church parsonage. Kulp reported that the Catherine Corbett circle of the church has undertaken and is paying for this project. White paint will replace the off-shade of yellow now on the parsonage.

Another 1952 renovation project, which was completed a few months ago, was the painting of the exterior of the church, Kulp added.

The contract provides for a 10-cent across the board pay boost, retroactive to June 9, three weeks vacation for 15-year employees and an improved insurance plan.

The Wage Stabilization board approved the contract this past Oct. 19.

Members of Local 2326 voted to donate $1800 to the United Fund, $25 to the Navy Mothers association and $25 to the Bethany Recreation center.

health problem for persons suffering from respiratory ailments.

"Persons suffering from ailments of the upper respiratory tract and of the sinuses probably would have their condition aggravated by the large body of water and mud formed," Dr. William C. Kistler, Pennsburg physician, told the board. He said the opinion was formed by a seven-man board of doctors, including himself.

The company, however, said the reservoir will produce "water at less cost, and will adversely affect fewer people, fewer homes and dwellings, and less valuable property, than any other reservoir that might be built within or without the company's chartered area."

W. James Macintosh, company counsel, told the board the utility has spent $188,000 on the project and said the permit should not be revoked.

To illustrate the need for the dam, the company engineer pointed out that the current daily average of the stream's flow has run between three-and-one-half million and four million gallons.

"In the future," Friel said, "the minimum flow of the stream will not be less than about seven million gallons daily and the company cannot reduce the natural flow below 11 and one-half million a day."

The company serves 4,500,000 persons in the suburban Philadelphia communities and says it must have the dam to assure an adequate water supply for future population in the area. It estimated that only about 1400 acres of land will be inundated.

Written briefs will be submitted next week to the board before action is taken on the petition.

UN's Arab-Asia Bloc Hits Resolution on France-Tunisia Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Dec. 9 (AP)—The Arab-Asian bloc in the UN lashed out today against an American-backed resolution calling for France and Tunisia to resume direct talks to end the crisis which has led to rioting and deaths.

The answer to the proposal put before the UN Assembly's Political committee yesterday by 11 Latin American countries was given by India's Mrs. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit, a leader of the bloc. She is the co-author with 12 other Arab and Asian delegates of a proposal for new talks under supervision of a UN commission.

France turned down the idea of any UN action on Tunisia as a violation of France's internal affairs and is boycotting the debate. Delegates speculated the Latin American resolution would be approved but they did not hold out much hope that talks would be resumed as a result of that action. The Arab-Asians claim it is fruitless to resume talks without UN supervision.

Mrs. Pandit said the Latin American resolution is full of "mild exhortations and pious intentions."

"No reference is made (in the resolution) to the restoration of normal civil liberties and normal conditions in Tunisia, a matter to which this organization can hardly remain indifferent," she said.

line with the general physical examinations (not including chest X-ray), which all food-handlers in Pottstown must undergo every six months.

A borough ordinance requiring these has been in effect for several years. Mrs. Wentzel mentioned that the cost of these examinations is borne, not by the borough, but by those taking the examinations or by their employers.

THE ASSOCIATION president also said that "We're willing to co-operate in every way with the borough. We're not trying to dodge anything."

Mrs. Wentzel said that restaurant owners were as anxious as anyone to guard against unhealthful possibilities, but that 100 percent protection was difficult for any restaurant to maintain by itself.

At the health board meeting, no action was taken, but the possibility was raised that the borough could quarantine any person suspected of having tuberculosis.

WELFARE SOCIETY —

PRESIDENT HORACE Y. SEIDEL presided at last night's meeting. Martha Shoemaker, executive secretary, reported 60 active cases on file, 8 of which have tuberculosis, and 11 service cases.

Garmets from the Needlework guild totaling 1188 were received, it was reported. Fifteen orders of groceries, 121 quarts of milk, three tons of coal and 50 units of clothing were distributed. The society recently placed three boys in Boys' Town, Nebraska.

ROK Leaders Expect Positive Action in Korea

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Dec. 9 (AP)—Leaders of the Republic of Korea's Navy and Marine corps said here today they expect some positive action in their country as a result of President-Elect Dwight D. Eisenhower's visit.

Vice Adm. Won Yil Sohn and Maj. Gen. Shin Hyon Joon, inspecting US Navy and Marine establishments in this area, said they hoped the action would reunite Korea.

The Naval head said in an interview that he believed only a military victory over Communists would achieve that end.

Vishinsky Asserts UN Not Instrument of Peace

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky said today that "unfortunately at present the organization of the United Nations is far from being an instrument of peace."

As he sailed for home in luxury aboard the French liner Liberté, a reporter asked Russia's chief UN spokesman:

"Are you coming back for the UN meeting in February?" "I don't know," Vishinsky replied with a smile. "That depends on a number of things."

Lie Complains Actions Hamstrung by Conflict

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Dec. 9 (AP)—Secretary General Trygve Lie complained today some of his actions in the UN are hamstrung by conflicting authority. He said the administrative tribunal at times told him to do one thing and the General Assembly another.

Referring to occasions where the administrative tribunal had reversed his decisions to get rid of certain employees, Lie told the budgetary committee he had been for buildurs.

empowered by the General Assembly to act as he saw fit in such matters.

Lie said he has the right to fire employees for the good of the UN without consulting anyone. He made no specific reference to the firing of 18 American UN employees for refusal to tell the US Senate McCarran subcommittee whether they had Red affiliations.

After licorice is extracted from the roots of the licorice plants, the residue is used to make a fire-retardant foam and insulating board budgetary committee he had been for buildurs.

2 (1 oz.) sq. unsweetened chocolate • 1/4 tsp. vanilla extract
1/4 tsp. almond extract • Few grains salt • 20 toasted almond nut meats

Cream the cheese until soft and smooth. Slowly add Franklin Confectioners XXXX Sugar, creaming thoroughly. Notice how easily Franklin Sugar blends. Melt chocolate over hot water; add and mix well. Add vanilla and almond extracts and salt. Form ball of fudge around each almond. Chill in refrigerator. Yields about 20. If you prefer squares, add chopped almonds to mixture; spread fudge in 8" x 8" x 2" pan. Chill; cut into squares.

Vanilla Coconut Fudge
Using same recipe, omit chocolate and nut meats. Substitute 1/2 cup shredded coconut for almond extract. Form fudge into 20 balls and roll in another 1/2 cup shredded coconut. To make everyday baking as successful as your holiday treats, always use Franklin Pure Cane Sugars.

Spring-Ford Hospital Auxiliary Meets At Christmas Party and Carol Sing

The recently re-organized Spring-Ford auxiliary of Phoenixville hospital met at a Christmas party and sang Christmas carols in Memorial hall, Spring City, Monday night.

Mrs. Thomas Tucker, president, conducted the business meeting, following a buffet luncheon, served from a table decorated with holiday trimmings.

New bylaws and constitution prepared by the executive board and read by Mrs. Robert Painter, recording secretary, were adopted. Mrs. Tucker announced the annual donation day to Phoenixville hospital through schools of Twin-Boroughs and surrounding area was an outstanding success. It was the largest in the history of the hospital for years.

A demonstration of pin curl covers, invented by Mrs. Edward Street, who holds a patent on the invention, was given, with Mrs. Joseph Painter and Mrs. Alvin Wetty acting as models.

Mrs. Tucker also announced Gray Ladies are needed badly at the hospital for bloodmobile work. Persons able to give several hours a week to take a course should contact Mrs. Street, chairman of Phoenixville Red Cross volunteers, or Mrs. Tucker, Arch street, Spring City.

THE AUXILIARY passed a motion approving a monthly donation to the janitor for taking care of the meeting room and other facilities.

Representatives named to attend the General council of the hospital were Mrs. Tucker and Mrs. Christian Moser.

Reports were given by Mrs. Painter, recording secretary; Mrs. Wetty, treasurer; Mrs. Wilbur Harley, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Joseph Ross, financial secretary.

Committees for the year were named before adjournment. The next meeting was planned for Jan. 12. Committee chairmen are: Mrs. Arthur Rittenhouse, ways and means; Miss Marie Hilborn, hospitality; Mrs. Charles M. Taylor, membership.

Lester A. Horning, president, appointed a nominating committee composed of George T. McKissic, H. Clare Mock and Carl Benfield to report at the next meeting.

Edwin L. Kahlert was welcomed as a new member. A report was made that Borough council has agreed to a request to try one-hour parking on Main street between Second and Fourth avenues on Fridays and Saturdays from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. The plan will be in effect until after the holidays on a trial basis. Signs for the new parking rule have been delivered to Borough hall.

MOTHERS MEET PRINCIPAL

Royersford grade school met with Dr. O. C. Kuntzleman, supervising principal, yesterday to discuss problems of education of elementary school children and how a new school building would benefit the children. Arrangements will be made later to visit one of the modern schools in a nearby community.

Church Women Sing Candlelight Service At Holiday Meeting

"And Mary Pondered," a candlelight service, was presented for the Women's Society of Christian Service of Royersford Methodist church Monday night.

Mrs. John McDermott and the Rev. Earl C. Carver, pastor, were the narrators. Mrs. Earl Moser, Jr., played as Mary; Mrs. Ray Bush, pianist, and the following formed the choir:

Peggy Buckwalter, Edna Miller, Mrs. Lillian Bush, Mrs. William Harrison Sr., Mrs. Ralph Landis, Mrs. Harvey Heintz Sr., Mrs. John Edleman, John Miller, Bertram Brandreth and John Edleman.

Mrs. John Merkel, Pottstown, northwest district president of the WSCS, was a guest. Mrs. Merkel spoke of the gifts given at Christmas and the meaning behind them.

A brief business meeting was conducted by the president, Pearl Frederick. Names of shut-ins of the congregation were distributed by the spiritual life committee, chairman, Mrs. Earl Carver. They will be remembered during the holidays. Several new members names were submitted by the membership committee, Mrs. Morey Williams, chairman.

MRS. WEBSTER MITCHELL, program chairman, announced the meeting in January will be in the form of a Winter picnic. Starting at 6:30 p. m., members are to bring their families and a packed lunch. A program is being arranged.

After repeating the WSCS benediction, the members and guests went downstairs, where the hostess committee had arranged a candlelit room decorated with a Christmas theme.

Instead of exchanging gifts this year the members made drawing bags and filled them with articles useful in the hospital. The bags were sent to Philadelphia General hospital.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Amos Heintz, Mrs. Dorothy Buckwalter, Minnie Barr, Mrs. Earl Heintz and Mrs. Morey Williams.

Detective's Humor Restored by Thief

BOSTON, Dec. 9 (AP) — A thief showed up at police headquarters today, giving officers in the operations bureau some fun and restoring Detective George Farley's good humor.

For days, Farley's sandwich lunch has been disappearing from a seventh floor window ledge. And Farley was giving black looks to fellow officers. Enough was enough, said he.

Looking out the window today, he was thinking — who is taking the grub? With a swoop the answer was in front of him. A saucy seagull flew down, picked today's lunch up and was off to the nearby Salvation Army building roof to enjoy it.

Like a good detective, Farley wanted to be sure. He put a doughnut out. Sure thing, back came the thief. Now, personal relations in the bureau are happy again.

Israel Foreign Office Says Envoy Unwelcomed

TEL AVIV, Israel, Dec. 9 (AP) — The Israeli foreign office said Rych Kubovy, Israel's minister to Warsaw, has been declared persona non grata (unwelcomed) by the Polish Communist government in a note handed to the Israeli charge d'affaires today.

The action, tantamount to demanding the recall of the minister, took on added significance in view of the recent Communist purge trial in Czechoslovakia, which was accompanied by a violent anti-Zionist attack on Israel.

The Communist Czechoslovak government also has demanded the recall of Kubovy, who has served simultaneously as Israel's minister both in Prague and Warsaw. Israel has rejected the Czechoslovak note.

State Court Upholds Mercantile License Tax

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 9 (AP) — The State Supreme court today upheld the constitutionality of the mercantile licensing tax levied by the City of Pittsburgh and the city's board of education.

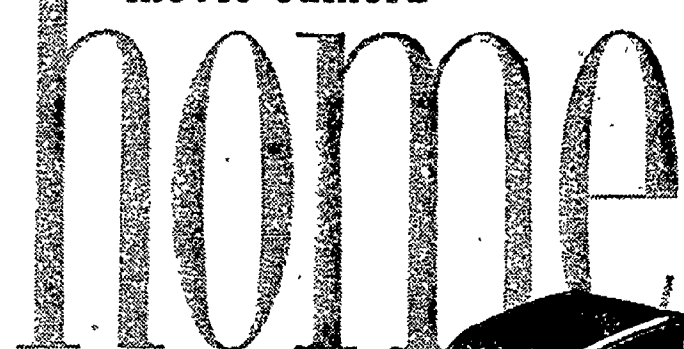

In an opinion written by Justice John C. Bell Jr., the court denied contentions by H. W. Goldstein, owner of the Anchor Distributing company, of Pittsburgh that the tax was unconstitutional.

Goldstein brought the suit against the one and one-half mill tax levied by the School District of Pittsburgh on gross receipts of wholesale vendors in the city. The city government levied a similar tax at the rate of one mill per dollar on the gross receipts of wholesalers.

Pottstown Portraits

A Quick Look at Your Neighbor

By CHARLES HEARN and LARRY DAVIS

GEORGE A. LONGACRE, 1203 North Franklin street, is ready to dispel an old belief that people who wear jewelers' eyepieces in their work soon develop weak eyes.

"My eyes are as good as they ever were," said this tall, husky watchmaker who has been doing precision work requiring the aid of an eyepiece for over 20 years.

George A. Longacre Longacre, now 36, has been employed by his uncle, Charles Longacre, who operates a jewelry store at 17 North Hanover street, since he was a pupil at the Junior High school.

On his graduation from the Senior High school in 1934, he attended the Hamilton Watch company school in Lancaster, and since then has been faithfully plying his trade.

Being closely associated with the jewelry business, Longacre was in position to disclose that the price of jewelry as compared with prices of other commodities, has gone up very little in the past several years.

"This is probably due to the 20 percent luxury tax you have to pay when buying jewelry," he said.

But jewelry and watchmaking are only one phase of Longacre's occupations which include part ownership in the M and L Laundrette, 423 High street, and selling real estate for James J. Moore, local realtor.

To add to his activities, he is a member of Elks, the American Business club, the Royal Arch chapter of the Knights of Templar, and master of the Stichter lodge, F. and A.M.

He said that membership in all these organizations has contributed to his travelling because of the many conventions that he attends with his wife, Betty Lou.

But he also blames these organizations for having taken him away from his two principal hobbies—sailing and flying.

Longacre said his "first love," sailing, came "from always liking the water since I was a kid, and spending my summer vacations at the seashore."

In 1948, he won the Wildwood, N. J. sailboat regatta with a 17-foot boat he built himself. And it is with somewhat of a sad voice that he tells about having since sold it, with intentions of someday acquiring another boat.

Longacre also holds a private pilot's license and within the past two years had owned three planes which he said were also sold.

In relating his flying experiences, he humorously recalled the incident which started him on the road to this hobby.

It seems that a friend of his with whom Longacre served in the Navy during World War II, was visiting in Pottstown and offered to take the latter up for a spin in an airplane which he had learned to fly under the G. I. Bill of Rights.

"I didn't believe he could do it, but he took me up and showed me," said Longacre; "and I figured if he could do it so could I, so I too enrolled for a flying course under the G. I. Bill."

While talking of his service days in the Navy where he did submarine repair work in the South Pacific, Longacre spoke of several visits to Australia which he called "good country."

"I like the way people live down there," he said. "They don't rush around like we do. They take things real easy. Of course, their country is about 50 years behind ours in their standard of living, but somehow I still sometimes think that maybe they have the right idea."

THOMAS J. ROLLO, of Marion avenue, Spring City, is one of many Pottstown area residents who came here by way of an Army uniform, married a local girl and settled here for good.

He is the man who helped more than 500 area disabled veterans to get needed educational and vocational training at the conclusion of World War II.

All his life, Rollo has been connected with the education of others, directly or indirectly. He enjoys the field and has spent considerable time in classrooms adding to his own knowledge.

A short, stocky, 190-pounder, Rollo is of Scottish ancestry. In Scotland the name is not uncommon.

His father, Thomas P., had come to the U.S. at the turn of the century, but went home to Scotland during the panic of 1907. Giving it a second thought, he returned to this country with his wife, Julia (Mathews) and infant son, Thomas.

The Rollo family of five children settled in Patterson, N. J., and in 1919 moved to Clifton.

Rollo attended St. George's Parochial school in Patterson where he finished the eighth grade and then studied at LaSalle Hall, a private high school in Ammentale, Md., from which he was graduated in 1929 in the top fifth of his class.

In 1932 he was awarded his college degree at Catholic university. Soon after, he began his career in education by teaching history and German at Central Catholic High school in Pittsburgh. In order to instruct in the latter course, he had taken special work at the University of Pittsburgh.

After two years, he moved to Baltimore where he joined the faculty of Calvert Hall, a private secondary school, where he taught until 1938.

He then was offered a position at St. Thomas college in Scranton. "You might say it was an assistant professorship," he says with an amused smile. "There were two instructors in the department and I wasn't the top man."

In 1938, also, he was awarded his master's degree in history, and began four years of summer study at Columbia university.

As with many men, the Second World War ended a phase of their careers but opened new avenues for others. In December 1943 he donned a uniform, reported to the New Cumberland Reception center, was put on a train, and wound up in Phoenixville where he was assigned to Valley Forge Army hospital.

At that stage of the war, Rollo explains, the Army was short of specialists in the field of Educational Reconditioning. Specialists were needed who had insight into academic problems, who could advise and guide others whose education had been interrupted by the war.

Rollo remained at the hospital until his separation in 1946. He left for brief intervals to catch up on his delayed basic training, to take courses in the Army's educational reconditioning school at Washington and Lee university, and to attend the Armed Forces Radio school at Los Angeles, Calif.

While assigned to the hospital, he met the former Ann McMichael, of Spring City, a graduate of West Chester State Teachers' college who was employed in the Blind Reconditioning service. The couple was married in the hospital chapel on July 7, 1945.

In May 1946, Rollo joined the Veterans Administration as training officer and was detailed to the Upper Montgomery county area with headquarters in Pottstown. It was his responsibility to authenticate and recommend the need by veterans for on-the-job, vocational and related academic training.

When the VA staff was reduced in 1950, Rollo became an inspector training and educational advisor for members of the Army desiring to continue their schooling. He holds that position today.

Parents of one daughter, Jean Ann, 3½, the Rollos a year ago purchased their new home in the Pennhurst road area. Rollo spends most of his spare time putting around the place and in keeping abreast of world affairs.

for the Sepco company and then rejoined the Army hospital staff as

Japanese Company Gets Fishing Permission

TOKYO, Wednesday, Dec. 10 (U. P.)—Kyodo News service said today the Chinese Communists have granted a Japanese company permission to send it fishing boats to the territorial water of Red said.

Children Delighted with New Books, Read During Holiday Season

By CAROLE ANN DININNI and MICHAEL MALLISON

The Second grade girls and boys in Mrs. Richard's room are delighted with their new library books. They like to take them home to read to their mothers and fathers. When they can read a story well, they read it to the other children in school. The books have very interesting stories and lovely pictures.

Christmas decorations are appearing. Christmas songs and carols are being sung, and the Christmas story portrayed by the Christmas creche. The children love the figures of the baby Jesus, Mary, Joseph, the Wise Men and the Shepherds.

The Jewish girls and boys observe Chanukah or the Feast of Lights during this month so we have heard the story of their Chanukah customs. We learned a song, "The Festival of Lights," which tells about all of the happiness and joy of the Chanukah season.

We have a Menorah with pretty orange candles, one to light for each day of Chanukah which lasts for eight days. We have a Dreidel which is a four-sided top used in playing games during this joyful time. We are happy that in our classroom we share not only our work but our thoughts with each other. We have decided that we are glad we aren't all alike.

Mr. Millard's room organized a small newspaper which received the name of "The Orion." Donald White is the editor of the "Orion." Happy birthday to Jeffrey Shaner and Albert Zink.

THE CHILDREN in Mrs. Brook's First grade are busy preparing for Christmas. They are making decorations for their room as well as gifts for their families. Each gift will be accompanied with a verse composed by the children.

Miss Gailey's room extends birthday greetings to Donna Fo and Carol McCord, and also Jame Bell and Nancy Pike.

The girls and boys in Miss Grubb's Third grade are studying a unit on Indians and Pilgrims. The table display or foreground consists of the landing of the Pilgrims on the Mayflower and their village.

Preparing for the first Thanksgiving feast is the theme of the unit. Nearby we have many friendly tribes of Indians, who are going to help to spend the first Thanksgiving with the Pilgrims. The Indian camp represents many of their ways of life, from weaving pottery making, hunting, grinding corn to canoeing. The sculpture background represents a forest with animals such as bear, moose and buffalo roaming through it. Indian booklets were made in connection with this unit and also a unit in our reading books.

Fifth Graders Give Thanksgiving Play

A Thanksgiving play entitled "Thanks to the Indians" was presented in the auditorium of the Franklin School by the Fifth grade in Mrs. Wicand's room. The play depicted the first Thanksgiving.

The characters and players were: five Pilgrim girls, Mary, Constance, Elizabeth, Humility, and Remember; Carolyn Schreffler, Brenda Smith, Elizabeth Gardner, Barbara Hause, and Gail Gabriel. The three Pilgrim boys were: Francis, John, Samuel; Allyn DeLong, David Yergey and Barry West. The Indian boy was played by Michael Grady, Chief Massasoit by Michael Merrin, and Gov. Bradford by Richard Humes.

5th Graders Work on Indian Project, Hold Thanksgiving Class Program

By JEAN ANN KEPNER

During the past month some of the Fifth grade girls, under the supervision of P. Langford, have been working on an Indian project.

Those active in making the project were Judy Moser, Eva Stunbris, Donna Yocom, Margaret Hilborn, and Linda Hilborn. The project represents a pioneer scene and an Indian encampment.

The class also had a Thanksgiving program. Those who participated and had recitations were Judy Moser, Mary Ann Bodolus, Edward Guss, Barbara Fritz, Jackie Long, Kenneth Day, William Day, Jo Ann Bartman, and Linda Hilborn.

The second week in November the class performed during the assembly for the elementary school. Those who played piano solos were Rebecca Schlingman, "The Washington Post March"; Donna Yocom, "The Spinning Wheel"; Judy Moser, "Minuet" From Don Juan; Schlingman played a duet "Chop-

Parents Reciprocate With Entertainment

By LEON CHRISTMAN

We had quite a treat the past week. In reciprocation for our program on parents' visiting day, our mothers entertained us.

First on the program was a group of 3-year-old children from Miss Shelly's school who charmed us with their clever recitations. Margaret Whitley and Sheri Kiem made recitations.

Then came the big surprise! A real magician! Kenneth Boyer astonished us with tricks until refreshments were served.

Our group gave an assembly program before Thanksgiving. Barton Moyer dressed his puppets like pilgrims and he and John Banus acted out a story about how the first Thanksgiving came about. Bonnie Christian played a hymn on the piano during the show.

Along with all this we have been busy with six-week tests, decorating our school dedication and PTA bazaar, practicing for our opera and thinking about Christmas.

Second Graders Start Christmas Projects

By BARBARA GOSWELLIN

Our Second grade class, under Mrs. Stauffer, has been very busy with the Thanksgiving project and now the Christmas activities are starting.

The children are decorating our room with Christmas art work and trimming a tree.

On Nov. 25, the mothers of the second grade visited us and observed two reading classes.

After the demonstration we all went to the cafeteria for tea and cookies and held an informal discussion.

While the mothers were served tea and cookies, the boys and girls who were finished eating went to their rooms to hear stories read to them by a high school pupil.

Sticks." Barbara Lord played "Candlelight". Gordon Fulty played Knute Rondum and Rebecca "Teddy Bear on his accordion."

A PLAY called "Mr. Fire Bug" was also presented. The characters were: Fire bug—Stanley Snow, Mother—Rebecca Schlingman, Judy—Judy Moser, Frankie—Melvin Arion, and Uncle Willie—Knute Rondum.

The future activities of the Fifth grade class will include the erecting of an airport by the boys and a Christmas program by all the pupils.

Pupils Dress Room, Hold Mother's Day

By BARBARA GOSWELLIN

Excitement over Christmas is now reigning in Miss Heritage's room. We have begun decorating our room, and have exchanged names for the giving of gifts.

We had "Mothers Day" in our room with the following mothers attending: Mrs. C. A. Brown, Mrs. D. Egolf, Mrs. W. Grim, Mrs. H. S. Hess, Mrs. Ralph Lloyd, Mrs. C. L. McAfee, Mrs. D. Reigner, Mrs. S. W. Evans, Mrs. Stanley Glanski, Mrs. H. Gorman, Mrs. D. Sands.

Our unit on Indians was culminated with the building of a tepee in our room. Among other Indian activities, we made two murals of an Indian village.

We celebrated Adele Evans's birthday.

Classroom Gets Holiday Look as Pupils Decorate

By BARBARA KENNEDY

The Sixth grade in Mrs. Hahn's room have completed two large Christmas murals. One depicts the coming of the Wisemen to Bethlehem. The other shows the Shepherds on the Judean hills and the appearance of the angelic host.

Pupils Paint Manger Scene Mural

By ESTHER MAY MARQUETTE

For Christmas our class painted a mural. It is the manger scene showing the baby, Jesus, Mary, Joseph and two of the Wise Men. Above this scene we have various Christmas candles, the Madonna, choir boys and an angel's choir. Above our large window we have a story in picture—two children hanging up their stockings, Santa arriving in his sleigh over the house tops and lastly Santa before the fireplace filling the two stockings.

Today we painted scenes from Christmas cards which we brought from home. All these things make our room very colorful for the Christmas season.

While our class has been doing all these things, we have not been forgetting lessons. In geography we have just finished Central America and started studying the West Indies.

In history we are passing from the age of scarcity to the age of plenty. We find this change has been brought about by the invention of new machines for spinning and weaving and the sewing machine as well as by new kinds of power for running the machines.

Fourth Graders Hold Christmas Assembly, Decorate Classroom

By JEAN ANN KEPNER

The Fourth grade pupils, under the supervision of Mrs. C. Peterson, are spending most of their leisure time decorating their room for Christmas.

The pupils had a Christmas assembly which told the Christmas customs of our country and of other countries.

Mary McElroy read the Bible. Paul Wagner lead the Lord's Prayer and pledge of allegiance to the flag. Kenneth Bickel held the flag and showed pictures of different customs. Dorothy Davis was the announcer.

Brian Ellis told how the Christmas tree originated. Patty Zelenak told about Santa Claus and his reindeer Rudolph. Garry Rhoads told of Christmas pageants. Wolfgang Glass explained the beginning of giving gifts. Peggy Harner showed pictures of Christmas in Poland and told the story of a Polish Christmas. Robert Brower explained how the Hollanders enjoyed Christmas. Sandra Snyder gave us a Swedish Christmas and Sam Yocom explained Christmas in Italy.

After the pupils were through, Miss Moyer lead in singing, "Silent Night" and "Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer."

has aroused much interest. A lively discussion on "Who Really Invents a New Machine?" was carried on with much enthusiasm. Patents and copy rights were discussed with the children searching their homes and schoolroom for such articles.

MACARTHUR, EISENHOWER SEND CABLES

President - Elect Asks General's Plan for Ending War

MEETING BETWEEN TWO IS CONSIDERED PROBABLE

ABOARD USS HELENA, Dec. 9 (AP) — President-Elect Dwight D. Eisenhower has exchanged cables with Gen. Douglas MacArthur and has asked for MacArthur's plan for ending the Korean War.

James C. Hagerty, Eisenhower's press secretary, told correspondents aboard this cruiser bound for Hawaii.

"Since Gen. Eisenhower left Korea, he has exchanged cables with General MacArthur. Of course, the president-elect wants Gen. MacArthur's views and thinking on Korea."

Asked if MacArthur has yet submitted his plan, Hagerty replied: "He did not. It was an exchange of cables."

(In Washington, a high official in the Defense department said that if MacArthur has such a plan it is his duty as a soldier to present it through Army channels "without further ado and without making a speech about it.")

MacArthur said in a speech the past Friday before the National Association of Manufacturers that he had such a plan but would give it to Eisenhower only if the president-elect asked for it.

It is understood that when this news reached Eisenhower, he sent a message to MacArthur in New York City expressing a deep interest in the plan.

MacArthur's reply was believed to have expressed a readiness to outline the plan at Eisenhower's convenience.

This raised speculation that there might be a face-to-face meeting between the two men at an early date.

DURING the presidential campaign Eisenhower had said that he could be expected to seek MacArthur's views on Far Eastern matters.

Hagerty said he could not at this time make public texts of the messages which were exchanged and that he could not go beyond the statement he had released.

However, it seemed clear that Eisenhower was ready to take advice from MacArthur and others on formulating his plans for bringing the Korean conflict to an end or at least to minimize its impact on the United States.

The exchange of views with MacArthur would give the Eisenhower administration the counsel of the man who commanded Allied forces in Korea during the first 9½ months of war.

MacArthur Asked To Reveal His Plan For Ending of War

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP) — A high official of the Defense department said today that if Gen. Douglas MacArthur has a plan to end the war in Korea it is his duty as a soldier to present it through Army channels.

His statement came shortly before it was announced aboard the USS Helena that President-Elect Eisenhower has exchanged cables with MacArthur and asked for his plan to break the Korean stalemate.

The defense official, who declined to permit the use of his name, told reporters it is "incumbent" upon MacArthur to submit his ideas "without further ado and without making a speech about it."

In a speech before the National Association of Manufacturers the past Friday, MacArthur said he has a plan for "a clear and definite solution of the Korean conflict" without involving unduly heavy Allied casualties.

2 More Moroccans Killed, 5 Wounded In New Outbreak

CASABLANCA, Morocco, Dec. 9 (AP) — Two more Moroccans were killed and five wounded in a new outbreak of violence in this rebellious protectorate of France today.

Police fired at a crowd of 100 which tried to storm the prison at Bein Mellal, 150 miles southwest of Casablanca, where some Moroccan leaders had been jailed.

In Tunisia, France's other North African protectorate, terrorists machinegunned the Tunis-Sousse express, killing a railroad employee and wounding two passengers.

Calm returned to Casablanca proper today after 72 hours of terror. But it was a quiet imposed on by the armored cars, steel helmets and truncheons of the French.

FRENCH FORCES, among them at least 200 French Foreign Legionnaires flown in from Marrakech, enforced order in Medina, the Arab section of this sprawling port city. The curfew was lifted.

A curfew imposed in Tunis, Tunisia, on Dec. 5, also was lifted.

The number of killed, wounded and arrested in Casablanca varies according to the source. The French say eight Frenchmen were murdered Sunday in a brutal manner and between 50 and 60 Moroccans died in Nationalist-inspired violence.

Nationalists say between 150 and 180 of their number were slain, hundreds wounded and more than 1000 imprisoned. They admit to the deaths of only three or four Frenchmen.

There also are conflicting versions as to who started the brief but terrible bloodletting — one of Morocco's worst in recent history.

The French say Nationalist labor leaders, members of the Istiglal (Independent) party, and a handful of Communists whipped up Moroccans to fever pitch Sunday over the unexplained murder of the Tunisian labor leader, Ferhat Hached. The Nationalists claimed the French got rid of him.

THE NATIONALISTS' story says: The labor unions called for a peaceful strike, protesting the death of Hached, and the French ordered arrests of a number of labor leaders.

Putnam Hopes for New Wage Board; Chamber Chief Urges Against Serving

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP) — Economic Stabilizer Roger L. Putnam said today he hopes to have a new wage stabilization board ready for work by the end of the week but the president of the US Chamber of Commerce quickly urged businessmen not to serve on the board.

Putnam had barely finished voicing his hope at a new conference when a statement from Laurence F. Lee, the chamber president, was distributed to newsmen. He opposed not only the participation of industry representatives to put the Wage board back in business, but continuance of the whole wage-price control program as well.

"The Administration's wage and price control program is but a sham and any service on the Wage board would be a waste of time," Lee said.

The statement from the huge businessmen's organization made it more than ever doubtful whether new board members can be found who can speak with real authority from the business community.

INFORMED OF Lee's statement later, Putnam called it "quite surprising." He said he had talked to the chamber chief in New York this morning and Lee had promised he would not make any statement on the subject without first consulting Putnam.

Talking with a reporter about the Lee remarks, the stabilization director made the flat statement that the Wage board "will be reconstituted." But he added he could not say how soon industry members will be found.

New Jersey State troopers haul struggling 235-pound Russell Ford, 30, from a field near Somerville, N. J., where he was captured after an all-night search following his escape from Somerset county jail. Ford, shown in a tangle of clothes, shouted "Kill Me, Kill Me," as the heavily-armed troopers closed in on him. Ford beat and stabbed a guard in his escape. The prisoner faces a mandatory life sentence as a fourth offender.

West Coast Storm Warnings Hoisted As Another Gale Hits Three States

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 9 (AP) — Another attempt to put a line aboard the Yorkmar could be made before tomorrow morning.

The 36 crewmen and captain remained aboard the 7207-ton freighter. No fears were felt for their safety, however, as the stricken ship has been working toward shore and, at low tide, the men could walk ashore.

Should Heuss withdraw his question to the court it would clear the way for Adenauer to file a Government suit.

Crisis Threatens Armed Alliance Plan Of Germany, West

BONN, Germany, Dec. 9 (AP) — A Constitutional crisis threatened tonight to wreck plans to bring West Germany with 500,000 soldiers into armed alliance with the West.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer urgently appealed to President Theodor Heuss to cut the legal knot.

The angry Adenauer was said by sources close to him to have begged Heuss to withdraw from the Federal Supreme court his request for an advisory opinion on the constitutionality of the Bonn Peace contract, which would end the Allied occupation, and the related six-nation European Army pact.

The crisis arose when the full court of 23 judges ruled today that its decision on Heuss' application would be binding in future test cases of the treaties before either of its two chambers. Adenauer followers denounced this ruling as illegal and "impossible." They wanted no strings attached to the ruling.

ADENAUER WAS reported fearful now that a court ruling on the Heuss request would make it impossible for him to obtain Parliamentary ratification of the treaties, the crowning work of his long fight to bring Germany into European federation.

He was said to have been tipped off that the court ruling on the Heuss case might knock out sections of the treaties as unconstitutional, or require that they obtain a two-thirds majority in Parliament for ratification.

Adenauer cannot get a two-thirds margin in Parliament against the powerful opposition of the anti-rearmament Socialists.

Broker Says $70,000 Paid to Leaders Of Longshoremen to Free Russia Furs

NEW YORK, Dec. 9 (AP) — A broker testified today he paid $70,000 to union leaders in order to free a multimillion dollar batch of Russia furs during a "patriotic" boycott by AFL longshoremen.

The State Crime commission thus got an intriguing behind-the-scenes peek at the 1950 boycott of Soviet-manufactured goods by the AFL International Longshoremen's association (ILA).

While longshoremen were bypassing Russia cargoes against the wishes of President Truman, fur Broker Gregory Butman testified he paid off union leaders to free three million dollars worth of Soviet furs from the docks.

The late Summer boycott two years ago was represented as a patriotic gesture by longshoremen "sick and tired of working for Russia and helping Communism finance its war machine with American dollars."

IT HAD THE backing of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Roman Catholic Bishop John F. O'Hara in Buffalo lauded the dock workers.

But President Truman rebuked them and said it wasn't up to longshoremen to set this nation's foreign policy. Secretary of Labor Tobin also criticized them and the boycott finally was called off.

Butman told the State Crime commission inquiry into waterfront rackets that he paid $25,000 to have $659,000 in Russian furs unloaded from the Finnish freighter Tornado at Port Elizabeth, N. J.

Then, Butman added, he put up $45,000 more to get $2,519,773 worth off the freighter Selma T. Lorden.

The witness said he negotiated with two men, one of whom he identified as Anthony (Joe Gent) Giantomasi, a local delegate of the ILA. He added that the other man resembled a picture of Pasquale (Pat) Ferrone, secretary of the same ILA local.

Butman's appearance highlighted another parade of witnesses who told the same story of dock racketeering, forced hiring of criminals, monumental thievery and wholesale shakedowns.

Anastasia May Get Citizenship Clipped

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 9 (AP) — The Justice department acted today to clip American citizenship from Albert Anastasia, the shadowy New York waterfront rackets figure who lives in Fort Lee.

Two US deputy marshals served de-naturalization papers on Anastasia's son Albert Jr. tonight.

Deputy Marshals William T. Kelly and Clinton J. Longstreet handed the papers to young Anastasia through the iron gate in the barbed-wire-topped fence that surrounds Anastasia's palatial home in Fort Lee.

"My father is upstairs sick," said young Albert, "but he has authorized me to accept the papers in his name."

Attorney General McGranery ordered the proceedings in Washington. The action is the first step toward denaturalization and deportation of the Italian native.

The Justice department said its files contained allegations that the 50-year-old Anastasia was one-time "high lord executioner of Murder, Incorporated," the Brooklyn gang which operated on a murder-for-profit basis.

Durkin Is Planning Labor Talk Series

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP) — Martin P. Durkin, designated as secretary of labor in the forthcoming Republican Administration, is planning a series of talks with leaders of organized labor, industry and Congress to chart possible changes in the Taft-Hartley act.

Durkin told newsmen today he does not feel it is up to him to suggest changes in the controversial labor law. His role, he said, will be "to bring the interested parties together so they can make the changes."

Durkin spent an hour with Secretary of Labor Maurice Tobin today to get a "briefing" on some of the duties of the cabinet post.

CASUALTIES ANNOUNCED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP) — The Defense department today identified 37 more Korean war casualties. Of the total, 13 are dead, 41 wounded, two missing in action and one injured in a battlezone accident.

SUPREME COURT HEARS DEBATE ON SEGREGATION

Lawyers Ask Tribunal To Crack Separation In Schools

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP) — The Supreme court heard clashing arguments today on a major issue: Is it legal to have separate schools for Negroes and Whites?

Negro lawyers pleaded with the tribunal to strike down such segregation as unconstitutional. Opposing attorneys contended that separation of the races is legal so long as educational opportunities are equal.

The Supreme court, in effect, was being urged to meet the issues headon; to uphold or throw out a doctrine it laid down in a decision in 1896. It held then that separate facilities for the races are Constitutional if they are equal.

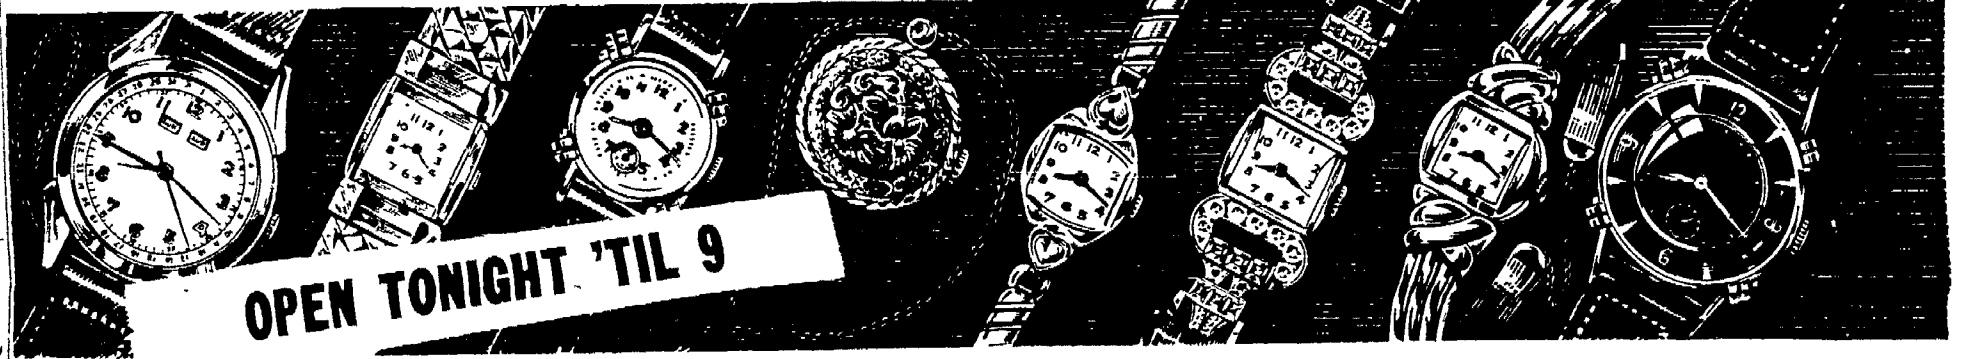

Teeling off on arguments that will run on for three days, Robert Carter of New York, a Negro attorney, contended that "no State has any authority" to divide its citizens by race.

REGARDLESS OF WHETHER Negro schools are just as good as white, he said, the very fact of segregation deprives Negroes of equal opportunities for education and development. That, he said, violates the 14th amendment to the Constitution and its guarantee of equality of treatment for all people.

Thurgood Marshall, another New York attorney, picked up the same thread of reasoning a bit later.

But Paul E. Wilson, assistant attorney general of Kansas, and Justice Frankfurter from the bench, pointed out there is a long history of court decisions and legislative action built on the doctrine that separate facilities for the races are constitutional if they are equal.

In Kansas, Wilson said, the schools are equal, in buildings, teachers and courses. With that, Carter agreed.

Junior Woman's Club Hears Talk By Rev. Edgar M. Cooper at Meeting

The Rev. Edgar M. Cooper, pastor of Swamp Lutheran church, New Hanover, addressed members of the Junior Woman's club of Boyertown at its monthly meeting on Monday night in the Community center.

The Rev. Cooper described his trip the past summer through Italy, Sweden, Holland and Germany and showed interesting color slides of European architecture and landscapes.

Mrs. Wilmer John introduced Emerson F. Harding, minister of music at St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church, Boyertown, who presented several solos.

THE CLUB'S public welfare division, headed by Mrs. George Hertzog, will send a Christmas basket to a needy family.

Daisy DelGrosso, club president, opened the meeting with the pledge of allegiance to the flag, followed by the club pledge. Antoinette Walters, newly crowned 1952 Holiday queen and Mrs. Willard Haring, guests, were introduced to the members.

Mrs. John, American home department chairman, announced a meeting to be held on Friday at 8 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Stephen Falken, 26 North Monroe street, Boyertown.

Borough Purchases More Water Land At Gabelsville Dam

Rowland A. Read, Boyertown borough manager and secretary, announced yesterday that the borough has purchased approximately 25 additional acres near the borough's impounding dam at Gabelsville.

Read announced the purchase of the Horace R. Cleaver farm, which lies northeast of the dam. The land has two springs on it. There is also some woodland, 400 peach trees and approximately 100 apple trees.

The borough, in the agreement of sale handled through Ivan Snyder, realtor, agreed to allow Cleaver to have possession of the 1953 fruit crop.

The only building on the land is the Cleaver family home. They will relocate only a short distance from their present residence. They will move into the former Llewellyn Romig home and, with the permission of the borough, will have water piped from their former property.

Read said this land has been considered by the borough council members for many years as a desirable property to secure for the borough. He pointed out that this brings the total acreage of the borough water property to 215 acres with a perimeter of more than four miles.

Read added that eventually the woodland on the newly-gained property will be replaced with pine trees to aid the borough's water supply.

Ladies' Christmas Bazaar Features Holiday Booths

The Christmas bazaar, conducted recently in the Odd Fellows hall by the St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church Ladies' Aid society, was described by Mrs. Earl Weber, chairman, as a huge success.

Mrs. Weber said the booths were appropriately decorated for Christmas and a feature attraction was the kiddie booth. It was the big favorite of the children attending.

She added that the profit derived from the bazaar will go toward the church's renovation debt.

Stemmer Emphasizes Need for Polio Fund

George U. Stemmer, chairman of the 1953 March of Dimes campaign, last night emphasized the need for more funds and volunteer help to solicit donations, is greater this year than ever because of the increased number of polio cases.

He pointed out that more than 10,000 chapters had their treasuries drained during the year because of the increased number of cases, and as a result, had to appeal to the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis for additional funds.

Stemmer urged all organizations who have appointed committees to aid in the drive, to be sure to have their representatives attend a meeting tonight at 8 o'clock in the Keystone Fire company Rainbow room, Boyertown.

CHURCH ADMITS
Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Weil and Mrs. Annie Pulmer were admitted as new members of the Church of the Good Shepherd, Evangelical and Reformed, Boyertown. The pastor, the Rev. Harper L. Schneek, received the new members.

New Hanover Grange Postpones Meeting

New Hanover Grange has postponed its meeting ordinarily scheduled for tonight until next Wednesday.

Lecturer Mrs. Beatrice Smale explained that next week's meeting will take the place of the two meetings ordinarily held during the month on the second and fourth Wednesdays.

She said the Grange did not wish to have its meetings conflict with other activities of the season. The second meeting usually would have been held the day before Christmas.

Next Wednesday's meeting will include a short business session presided over by Master Willis Hetrick and a Christmas program of recitations and songs by children of members.

On the committee arranging the Christmas meeting are Mrs. Henry Rosenberry, Mrs. Levan Steltz and Mrs. Arthur Landis.

McGranery Says People Regret 'Nasty Things'

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9 (AP)—Attorney General McGranery said today he believes that many persons regret the "nasty things" they once said about the Justice department.

The administration's clean-up man expressed his views in presenting certificates of merit to 27 Justice employees with 25 or more years of service in the department.

Obviously referring to the blanket charges of graft and corruption leveled on the department in the past two years, McGranery said the rank and file of "worthy" workers in the department had been foremost in his thoughts.

Brookside Country Club's Directors

William T. Beaver W. Kenneth Nichols Elmer J. Jackson Benjamin H. Longaker Jacob R. Sotter

Shown above are the five men elected last night to three-year terms as members of the board of governors of Brookside Country club. Sotter, president of the board, and Longaker, secretary, are incumbents who were re-elected. Nichols and Jackson are former members of the board, while Beaver was elected last night for his first term. Votes were cast at last night's meeting by 135 resident members of the club.

Officers Elected at Brookside Club

LeVeille. Defeated for re-election last night was M. Burr Edwards, the other incumbent.

Of the men elected last night, two are businessmen and three are industrial executives.

Sotter, who lives at Charlotte and East street, is in the insurance business. Jackson, 317 Rosedale drive, is associated with Cates and Becker, automobile dealers.

Longaker, whose home is at 1307 Chervv street, is general manager of the Schuylkill Valley Oil company. Nichols, 476 North Franklin street, is a production planning administrator for the Doehler-Jarvis company. Beaver, who lives at 333 Grandview road, is an engineer with the United States Axle company.

THE 135 VOTES cast in last night's election was considered a better than average number, a spokesman for the club said. Number of resident members eligible to vote is 300.

The polls were open two hours last night during the annual business meeting—From 8:30 p. m. until 10:30 p. m. All voting had to be done in person.

Members had the privilege of making additional nominations from the floor after the nominating committee had submitted the list of nominees.

Following the meeting in the club a general discussion of the club's affairs was held. Committees reporting were those on sports, entertainment, golf, budget, tennis, swimming and junior activities.

Also heard was the report of the treasurer, Thomas A. McCaslin.

Beers, pastor of First Baptist church and chaplain of the Federation.

Included in the musical service, was a Bible meditation by the Rev. Beers, carols by the entire group, a vocal solo by baritone Gordon Shanabrook, a piano solo by Mrs. W. Russell Ober and singing by a children's choral group.

Members of the children's chorus were Dolores Ziegler, Toni Mariano, Donna Grant, Patricia Pollock, Marlene Cannell, Judith Fillman and Judith Umstead.

John F. Stamm welcomed the men to the meeting, which was the first held by the Federation in Transfiguration church.

THE REV. CHARLES TRUAX, pastor of Cedarville Methodist church and assistant chaplain of the Federation, called the men to worship and pronounced the benediction after the candlelight service.

Thomas Carter, president, and the other officers of the Federation were the hosts for the meeting.

Christmas scenes were projected on a screen by Raymond Garvine during the song service.

Banner awards were won by Cedarville Methodist and Emmanuel Lutheran for new members secured; by Emmanuel Lutheran and First Methodist for best attendance, and by Cedarville Methodist for best percentage attendance.

Co-chairmen for the program were Merrill M. Umstead and Walter McCurdy Sr.

Episcopal Bishop Warns Of 'Certain Dangers'

DENVER, Dec. 9 (AP)—Episcopal Bishop Henry Knox Sherrill tonight told the nation's biggest interdenominational church body it must avoid "certain dangers" of administrative bureaucracy and clerical domination.

Bishop Sherrill, president of the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the USA, declared "we need to beware lest we spend all our time tinkering with the machinery without achieving any other objectives."

In an address prepared for the opening of the council's General Assembly, its top governing body, he also cautioned: "We are still too largely—and I can say this being one of them—a group of clerical leaders."

STREET COSTS FIGHT

developments only has been applied by the borough.

This rule provides developers pay one-half the cost of border streets, the borough pay a quarter, and opposing property owners (Wilson street owners in this case) pay the remaining one-quarter.

Wilson street, between Adams and Washington streets, where all 12 properties are located, is bordered by the Pilgrim Hills development, which qualifies it for the border street rule.

The nine other home owners entered in the equity proceedings against the borough are George Steinmetz, 559 Wilson street, Howard McAfee, 571 Wilson street; William McCann, 595 Wilson street; Kenneth Elms, 589 Wilson street. Also, Otto Spangeberg, 583 Wilson street; Paul Sawchuk, 806 North Washington street; Robert Rohrbach, 801 Hale street; George Saurman, 802 North Warren street; Michael Sedlock, Wilson and North Adams streets.

EARLY IN November the 12 property owners received letters from the borough which informed them work on Wilson street would start Nov. 10 and would be completed by Dec. 1.

The letter told them they would have 30 days to pay their one-quarter shares for new construction in front of their homes. If at the end of 30 days they failed to comply liens would be placed against their properties.

Because of bad weather work was not started on the street until Nov. 13.

Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden told council Monday night work would be delayed until Spring because of recent rains and snows. He said the street would remain open during the winter.

Council's highway and sewer committee awarded the contract to Contractor E. J. Breneman, Warwick settlement, this past Oct. 27.

PRIOR TO this meeting the borough received from the Pilgrim Hills development a deed which added a 10-foot strip of land to Wilson street, between Washington and Adams streets.

Length of the strip for the two blocks is approximately 1000 feet.

With this grant the width of Wilson street for the two blocks in question has been increased to 34 feet.

The additional 10 feet is the source of one of the complaints filed in the brief by Attorney Jones. Wilson street residents contend they should not pay for construction costs of the 34-foot street when they will receive no benefit from the extra 10 feet.

Attorney L. Stanley Mauger, representing Pilgrim Hills development, argued against the border street plan at a highway meeting this past Aug. 21.

He said the plan was discriminating against the developer who should pay only one-third the costs of street construction. He pointed to 10 feet the developer had deeded to the borough.

Solicitor C. Edmund Wells argued the developer was getting a break. He pointed out the builder must pay all costs for streets within a development.

Forgery Trial to Start Before President Judge

SCRANTON, Dec. 9 (AP)—Trial of an action to determine whether forgery was committed to deprive a brother and seven nieces and nephews of Amedeo Obici, multi-millionaire peanut king, of more than $150,000 in legacies was started in court here today before President Judge T. Linus Hoban, sitting as a chancellor in equity.

Obici, former president of the Planters Nut and Chocolate company, died May 21, 1947. He made his home in Scranton for a time before starting a peanut stand in Wilkes-Barre which expanded into a nation-wide business.

Stowe Widow Settles Civil Suit Against Reading Company

By Staff Correspondent

NORRISTOWN, Dec. 9 — Mrs. Mary Polischek, 54-year-old widow, of West High street, Stowe, today settled a $15,000 civil suit against the Reading Transportation company for $750.

The settlement was reached this morning just before the case went into its second day of trial in Civil court before Judge William F. Dannehower.

The settlement figure represents the full amount of money spent by Mrs. Polischek for hospital treatment and doctor's bills as a result of injuries she allegedly sustained on Oct. 17, 1950.

The woman testified at Monday's session of the trial that she was thrown to the floor of a bus at High and Fairview streets when the driver brought the vehicle to a jolting stop.

MORRIS HERBST, Shoemakersville, the operator, denied he had handled the bus roughly. Instead, he asserted that he drove the vehicle into its parking space smoothly.

When he looked around, he said, he found Mrs. Polischek on the floor and drove her to Memorial hospital, Pottstown, for treatment.

Local Woman Hurt In Fall Down Steps

A 65-year-old Pottstown area woman was cut severely in a fall down steps yesterday. She was one of three injured treated in Memorial hospital's dispensary.

Mrs. Annie Crater, Sanatoga, suffered severe cuts of the forehead and face after falling down the cement front steps at her home.

Paul Kulp, 18, of 222 Warren street, had a cut on his fourth left finger. It happened while he was putting on a tin roof for Stanley Swinehart, Pottstown contractor.

Seventeen sutures were required to close the cuts.

Mrs. Blanche Miller, 629 State street, was given dispensary treatment for burns of the right hand. She had been heating a remedy to treat a child with, when the compound, ignited.

Churchmen Attend Christmas Meeting At Parkerford Baptist

The Christmas meeting of the North Branch Christian Endeavor societies last night in Parkerford Baptist church was attended by 65 members of seven Pottstown area societies, who took part in a musical program.

The Rev. Roger Conant, pastor of Windsor Baptist church, led in a song service of Christmas carols.

Special music was presented by Mr. and Mrs. John McCord and daughter, Birdsboro, who sang to the accompaniment of piano and accordion.

A Christmas message was delivered at the meeting by the Rev. Marshall M. Smith of Honeybrook. He traced the history of Christmas from the birth of Christ to modern times.

CHESTER COUNTY CE President Brower R. Ellis announced the Spring convention of county societies would take place April 17 and 18 in West Chester.

The next North Branch board meeting will be held Jan. 6 at the home of Hilda Hertzler, Pottstown RD 2. The next branch meeting is scheduled for Jan. 13 in St. Peter's Baptist church. Board members will have charge of the branch meeting.

Last night's attendance banner was won by East Nantmeal Baptist's society.

Park Officials Take Steps On Gettysburg Gunfire

GETTYSBURG, Dec 9 (AP)—Park officials took steps today to make sure that gunfire does not break out again over the Gettysburg battlefield—at least until the end of deer hunting season.

Superintendent J. Walter Coleman said a large portion of the park has been closed because hunters have been parking their cars on battlefield avenues, going into wooded areas and driving deer ahead of them to private property where hunting is permitted.

Park regulations prohibit hunting or carrying firearms in the park area.

The portions of the park closed temporarily to the public are the areas, including the roundtop areas and Spangler, Pitzer and Biesecker woods.

Ike Tells Farm Group Government Help Vital

SEATTLE, Dec. 9 (AP)—President-Elect Eisenhower told a national farm group today he considers it "essential for Government to help farmers achieve a stabilized prosperity in ways that do not impinge upon the farmers' freedom of action and do not stifle initiative."

His message was sent to the American Farm Bureau federation's convention here in a letter to President Allan B. Kline.

It was his first message to a major farm group since his election to the White house.

was restored, this was a wonderful Christmas present to Scotty's parents the past year, especially since they were assured that he someday would have perfect vision as a result of further operations.

Following a short stay in the hospital the past January, when the sutures taken in Scotty's right eye were dissolved, it was reported that all surgery on that eye was completed. Later in the same month he was fitted with special glasses to facilitate his sight.

Almost nine months later, the past Sept. 20, an operation was performed on Scotty's left eye. He was discharged from the hospital Sept. 28, and on Oct. 9 his parents took him back to Reading to have the bandages removed.

It was only then that he could see for the first time out of both eyes.

MRS. JOHNSON said yesterday that Scotty will have to be returned

Talking Horse Owner Insists Animal Speaks

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 9 (AP)—The owner of Lady Wonder, the "talking" horse that is basking in a new splurge of publicity in her old age, stoutly defended her pet—and business associate—today as "neither fraud nor hoax."

Gray-haired Mrs. Claudia Fonda, who has raised the 27-year-old animal since it was a tiny colt, insisted to skeptics she uses no tip-off system to signal Lady the answers to questions on life, love and others asked at the rate of three for a dollar.

Mrs. Fonda's comment followed the disclosure of Dr. J. B. Rhine of Duke University that he had issued a report some 20 years ago declaring there was clear evidence of signaling from the woman to the horse.

rear home be granted sewer facilities in the basement of the front home.

Also included in the deed was a provision for the rear property holder to have free access to the alley on the eastern side of the front property.

The Sconnelys complained Zeigler will not permit them to use the alley.

ON JULY 22, 1946 sewer lines of the rear property were connected in the basement of the front property and a common sewer line was maintained to the main line on Lincoln avenue.

On Aug. 12, 1947 Zeigler accepted a deed to the Dress property with knowledge of its contents, it is pointed out.

The complaint asserts, from July 1, 1951 and continuing to the present the defendant (Zeigler) has "failed to conform" to deed by cutting and stopping the plaintiff's sewer line, thereby, causing all drain, sewage and toilet waters to back up in the plaintiff's house, refusing to permit the plaintiff to repair the sewer and water pipes and to connect the defendant's sewer lines, refusing to permit the plaintiff the uninterrupted use of the alley along the eastern side of his home.

The complaint cites the following damage claims against Zeigler: $94 for installation of sewage pipe in the Zeigler basement, $1000 for the removal of drain, sewage and toilet water from the Sconnely home, $1000 for damage of the health to the Sconnelys due to the "stench and odor of the backing up of the sewage and toilet water."

The plaintiff states they have no adequate remedy at law and equity therefore, has jurisdiction.

The complaint includes a plea that the defendant be compelled to pay the damage of $2094, be restrained from preventing the plaintiff to lay, maintain and operate sewer and water pipes on his premises, be restrained from preventing use of the alley and be required to bear 50 percent of the cost of any materials or labor required to extend the plaintiff's sewer and water lines.

The case was turned over to Wells and Campbell by the Montgomery county legal aid society.

Miss Sierocinski said she was traveling west on Cherry street, slowing down at Rohland before she proceeded to cross the intersection at which time her automobile was struck by McElroy's car.

McElroy, however, insisted to Patrolman Paul Smith, investigating the mishap, that the woman's car "crossed the intersection at a high rate of speed and I could not avoid hitting her."

Miss Sierocinski's car had the right front fender and grill damaged, while the left front fender, headlight, hood and bumper were damaged on McElroy's vehicle.

Ceremony in Harrisburg Pine Street Church Weds Paul M. Jones, Joan Compton

Paul M. Jones, Pottstown, claimed as his bride Joan E. Compton, Harrisburg, at a wedding ceremony in Harrisburg.

Setting for the nuptials was the Pine Street Presbyterian church, and the Rev. Louis F. Hutchins officiated.

Organist was Frank McHeron and John C. Holmes was soloist.

Mr. Jones is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Jones, 226 North Hanover street.

His bride's mother is Eleanor W. Compton, 240 North 14th street, Harrisburg.

Traditional white satin attired the bride, whose long sleeved bodice was embroidered with scroll work and featured self-covered buttons and a high, round neckline.

Her veil was of illusion net and she carried a white orchid centered in her white bridal bouquet.

Maid of honor was Alberta Barnhart. Ann Foose was bridesmaid and Sandra McKee served as junior bridesmaid. All are from Harrisburg.

All three bridal attendants wore gowns of blue satin and tulle, and carried bouquets of red carnations. Best man was Donald Ziegler, Pottstown. Jack Westerhoff, Edgewood, N. J., and Elwood Williams, Lykens, ushered.

Mrs. Jones attended her son's wedding wearing a gown of orchid crepe. The bride's mother was attired in blue lace.

Dr. and Mrs. C. Stanley Holmes, aunt and uncle of the bride, were hosts at the reception.

Mr. Jones was graduated from Pottstown High school and Ursinus college. He is serving with the Army and is awaiting orders at Camp Kilmer.

His bride, who was graduated from John Harris High school, Harrisburg, is a senior at Ursinus college.

NEW BRIDE Mrs. Paul M. Jones is pictured above after her wedding to the son of Mr. and Mrs. George B. Jones, 226 North Hanover street. She is the former Joan E. Compton.

On stage laughter opened "My Man Godfrey" last night in the Senior High school auditorium. The audience reciprocated in kind for Manthorne Players' three act comedy.

Set in the Bullock home, New York city, and specifically in the library, the play opened with brisk background fill-in by Carlo (W. Carroll Hadley), an accented gigolo, and Viola Bogart (Marcella Valin).

A scavenger hunt, in its last stages of search for a "left-handed brass", an old bicycle and a hair from Grover Cleveland's moustache, was in progress.

Daughter Irene (Patricia MacDonald) picks up Godfrey (Jim Byrne) to fulfill scavenging requirements of a "forgotten man".

Godfrey comes to battle for the Bullocks and stays to see the flea-brained family through a threatening bankruptcy and numerous crises of domestic trivia.

Through machinations involving pearls and detectives (Joseph Wismer), Godfrey gets his Irene and everyone is happily settled.

Verna Hadley played flutter-brained Mrs. Bullock and Anne MacDonald, her sophisticated daughter, Cornelia.

Cornelia's long-suffering suitor, George, was enacted by David Bauso. Marjorie Isett took charge of Molly the maid.

James Powell filled the role of Mr. Bullock who was investigated by insurance man, G. Bryce Manthorne.

Reporters and photographers were played by Alice Yocum, Jeanne Leppard, Eugene Orlando and Betty Tierman.

Carroll Hadley and Sigmund Valin looked after programs and scenery. The Fifth Avenue library was brocaded, mahogany and vased.

Florence Manthorne directed the three act satire.

West End Fire Company Auxiliary Re-elects All Its Incumbent Officers

West End Fire company auxiliary members unanimously re-elected their entire slate of officers last night at their annual Christmas party.

George Sotter, who was presented with a basket of fruit from the auxiliary.

Wilson Mest, financial secretary, and Mrs. Harvey Mest, treasurer.

Decorations for the party featured, on the stage, a fireplace flanked by two large candles and topped with a large, lighted Santa Silver tinsel and Christmas cards outlined the entire platform.

Centered among the tables in the firehouse was a large Christmas tree, which members trimmed as they sang Christmas carols.

Entertainment featured ballet, tap and scarf dancing by the pupils of Price dance studio.

Pre-Marriage Parties Honor Bride-Elect Elaine L. Garner

Warm reds, greens and frosty white of the Christmas season have been chosen by Elaine L. Garner for her wedding Sunday.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Earl Garner, she will marry Edward J. Gilvey, 24 North Evans street, in St. James Lutheran church.

Red poinsettias will decorate the altar; white and pink poinsettias will be carried by women of the bridal party.

Though Miss Garner will wear traditional white, her attendants will wear deep velvet greens and reds.

After the ceremony at which the Rev. Edward S. Horn, pastor, will officiate, a reception will be held in the church.

Only immediate relatives and friends have been invited to the wedding.

Miss Garner and her fiancé, originally from New York state, will return from their wedding trip to live in his North Evans street home.

Pre-nuptial parties honoring the bride include a shower given by two of her bridesmaids and Arlene Shellenberger.

Geraldine Stricker Wins Jessie Cronk Presidential Election, Foreign Born Speaker Contrasts Christmases at Circle Party

Geraldine Stricker will succeed Hazel Sotter as president of the Jessie Cronk circle of Emmanuel Lutheran church.

At the elections Monday in Miss Sotter's home, 15 South Rohland street, Mrs. Norman Yocom was elected vice president.

New secretary is Kathryn Hanley and Mary Davidheiser was elected treasurer.

During the Christmas party following elections, members sent a gift package to the circle's namesake, missionary

Jessie Cronk who is stationed in India.

The circle packed 14 baskets for shutins.

Speaker for the meeting was Janis Keps, who described Christmases in her native Latvia and in wartime Germany.

She stressed her gratitude to Emmanuel Lutheran church, for helping assure her family its finest of all Yuletides in America.

Members attending the meeting were: Mrs. Alton Peterman, Mrs. Richard Peterman, Mrs. Robert deLong, Mrs. Douglas Umstead, Mrs. Henry Burdian and Mrs. Stanley Strohl.

Mrs. Wayne Lender, Mrs. Ralph Schwenk, Mrs. William Waltermyer, Mrs. Harold Miller, Mrs. Gordon Astheimer, Edith Bickel and Mrs. Bernard Keim.

Mrs. Luther A. Koruse, Mrs. Lester Keim, Mrs. John Gilbert, Mrs. Robert Evans Jr., Mrs. Charles Traynor, Mrs. George Bickel and Mrs. William Clark.

Mrs. Philip Sotter, Elsie Rhoades, Edith Yocom, Gladys Yocom, Jean Troutman and Trudy Silvers.

Thomas Buzzar, Mrs. Albert Buzzar, Mrs. H. Allen Landis, Mrs. Edward Edlinski, Mrs. Samuel Hoffman and Mrs. T. Henry Boyer.

John H. Frymoyer to Wed Minnesota Girl

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Pvt. John H. Frymoyer and Evelyn Mae Holmes.

'No' Words Are Bad Words for Fischer Bible Class Students at Christmas Party

'No' and 'know' were forfeit words Monday night in the home of Mrs. Henry Mackes and Mrs. John Shaner, Pottstown RD 3.

If any member of Fischer Bible class used one of these words before, during or after turkey dinner, she had to give her red bow to the accuser.

Mrs. Charles Bentz possessed the largest collection of bows at the close of the evening and was acclaimed winner.

Other games were played at Transfiguration Lutheran church group's Christmas party. After a round of 'Now you have it; now you don't', women played a seasonal version of anagrams.

In the business meeting led by president Mrs. Fred Erb, it was decided that utensils for the church kitchen would be purchased. To give of oneself was the theme of Mrs. George Kercher's story,

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A STORE president, dismayed by his constantly spiraling overhead, called in an efficiency expert, and implored, "Find me some way to operate this place more efficiently and economically, or we'll have to close our doors." The E. Ex. began by passing out forms to all employees on which they were asked to set down exactly how much time each day they devoted to their various assignments. One meticulous elevator man answered, "My time is equally divided—50 per cent up; 50 per cent down."

Budd Schulberg, author, visited a new super-de-luxe beach front hotel in Florida and reports the cuisine is so fancy the guests rarely have the faintest idea what it is they're eating. As a final touch, confides Schulberg, "they put whipped cream in the drinking water."

MARRIAGE COUNSELOR

The courtroom was crowded as the judge finished his lecture to the defendant in a divorce case. "So, I've decided to give your wife $50 per month," the judge concluded.

The defendant's face lit up. "That's swell, judge," he smiled. "I'll try to slip her a couple of bucks now and then myself."

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE—Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A X R

is LONG FELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Trojans Spurt to Beat Doylestown, 69-48

By ED TAGGERT

The Pottstown Trojans again proved to be strong finishers last night as they romped to their third successive victory, 69-48, over Central Bucks High school at Doylestown.

For almost three quarters the rafters of the new gymnasium echoed the happy cheers of the dedication crowd as the Buckaners fought the Trojans on even terms.

Then the proverbial roof fell in and while the visitors were scoring 31 points, the CBS boys connected for only 10. It was a rather dim finish for the home forces in their brightly lit arena that was used for high school competition last night for the first time.

Coach Ed Good shuffled and reshuffled his lineup trying to find the winning spark as the stubborn Bucks refused to quit.

Trailing by two points going into the final quarter, Coach Bill McCabe's JV's began pressing harder than ever, although their style of play all evening was of the harassing nature.

Merrill Shirey sent his club into the lead, 26-23, by sinking three outs. Carl Sundstrom came out of a scramble with a loose ball and drove three-quarters of the long court for two points.

Little Johnny France, all five feet of him, sank a foul for the Bucks, their first point of the quarter, to leave his team trailing by two.

AL BODOLUS, who tied with Josh Sova for high point total—each had nine—tallied with a jump shot and Shirey added a foul and a field goal to complete the Trojan scoring.

With a minute to go, Bob Thompson finally found the basket with a duck shot but Pottstown's freeze ran out the clock.

With only three minutes remaining in the third quarter and the score tied at 38 all, Good called Doug Moser from the bench, and the curly headed Senior opened the scoring gates.

The flood that followed swelled the Doylestown five with a string of 12 straight Trojan points before the home captain, Ed Redfield pocketed a foul.

Moser started the surge with a three-point play to give the Trojans a 41-38 lead. Dave Ricketts, who again took game scoring honors with 21 points, added a foul and just before the buzzer sounded ending the third period, Ron Cheney scored on a fast break.

Ricketts and Moser drove for buckets to open the final period and Mike Krickzy and Moser added fouls. With PHS now holding a 12-point advantage, Redfield, a 12-point man for the night, broke the spell with his foul conversion.

MOSER ADDED three more field goals and another foul to compile a 13-point total during his brief stay. He tied Jack Pollock for runnerup honors for the Trojans.

Pollock, along with Ricketts carried the scoring burden in the first half. He was sent in just before the first period ended and drove for a layup from the side court to cut a Buckaner lead to one point, 14-13, as the quarter ended.

Earl Huber opened the second frame with a two-pointer and Ricketts countered on a driving layup. Pollock then dominated the point department by tabbing three goals and two fouls to shoot the Trojans out in front 24-18.

But by intermission time Doylestown regained the lead due largely to the pair of field goals by Jerry Lee, and Redfield's foul shooting.

Bears Swamp Oley, 79-39, for Second; Schanley Bags 23

Boyetown hatched Oley last night, 79-39, for its second win of the year without mishap, as Darv Schanley tallied 23 points in about a half of play.

Bear mentor Herb Hartman yanked his regulars midway through the second period after they had stuffed a 27-6 first period cushion and were well on their way to a decisive 47-17 halftime bulge. He put them back in for four minutes at the beginning of the second half then handed them their towels and gave them the remainder of the night off.

Behind Schanley in the scoring was center Randy Stauffer, who batted in four field goals and a brace of fouls for 10 points—eight in the first period. The rest of the points were split up among 11 players.

Phil Mathias' 10 led the losing Lynx, who now have lost three in a row without winning.

The jayvee nod also went to Boyertown, 42-24. Tom Graber and Armond Hug checked in with 24 markers between them to pace the Baby Bears, while Eddie Lora's seven was high for the Oleys.

Fetterman, Roth Lead Upper Perk 2d Half Rally; Jackets Win, 57-52

Terry Fetterman and Denny Roth soaked their hands in the cauldron during halftime and returned in hot-pawed fashion to spark Upper Perk to a 57-52 knockout of Sell-Perk last night at East Greenville.

Roth and Fetterman, who failed to collect a fieldgoal between them in the first half while the Sells' zone defense constantly jammed up their inside game, made the difference in the second, combining for 10 deuces and four fouls between them.

Fetterman had the biggest bundle, getting six double deuces and three gitties for fifteen a fter intermission markers. Add to that three first half fouls and you have 18 points—the evening's top total. He also garnered 17 rebounds to run the backboard show.

Roth meshed four fielders after the midway break and added a charity toss to an earlier singleton to finish with 10 even. Al Tomlinson, who steadied the Yellow Jackets through their futile first two periods, ended with 14 markers.

Trouble in Injuns' Teepee

Jesse Arnette Leads 4 Sophomores On All-Pennsylvania College Team

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 9 (AP)—Four Sophomores, headed by Penn State's Jesse Arnette, four repeaters and a pair of two platoon linemen have been named to the 1952 Associated Press All-Pennsylvania collegiate football team.

Forty sports writers and broadcasters participated in the annual AP poll. Thirty of them cast ballots for Arnette, 228 'pound' end from New Rochelle, N. Y., as an offensive end. The second highest vote was given to Gene Filipski, the brilliant open field runner from Villanova College. Filipski, who left West Point in cribbing incident of two years ago, polled 20 votes as an offensive halfback.

The three other Sophomores picked were Eldred Kraemer of Pittsburgh as both offensive and defensive tackle, Roosevelt Grier of Penn State at defensive tackle, and Henry Ford of Pitt, defensive back. The smallest man on the entire squad—defensive and offensive—Bill Ewing of Gettysburg, Brad Myers, Bucknell's hard running halfback; Eddie Bell, two-way nominee at end from Penn, and Joe Schmidt, Pitt's outstanding linebacker, are the repeaters from the 1951 team.

In all there are eleven seniors, five juniors and the four Sophs on the all-star team. The offensive line weighs an average 208 pounds with the backs at 185, while the defensive line averages 207 pounds and the backs 190. Ewing at 167 is the light weight and Villanova's Bill Hegarty, a tackle, the heaviest at 235.

Here's your offensive all star team.

At the ends, Arnette and Bell; tackles, Kraemer and Hegarty; guards, Charley Weber, Little All-America from West Chester State Teachers college whose coach Glen Killinger says could play with any team in the country, and Ewing; center, Jim Dooley, the ball snapper coach Rip Engle of Penn State says could well be the best of

Pirate Fans Believe Hanery to Head Bucs

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 9 (AP)—Pittsburgh Pirate fans will give you odds today that Fred Hanery will be the next Pirate manager. General Manager Branch Rickey says nothing's sure but he called Hanery here for a talk tomorrow.

Hanery, manager of the Hollywood Stars of the Pacific Coast League for the past four years, has been considered a strong contender for the post ever since Billy Meyer resigned at the end of last season.

Chuck Davey Fights Fitzie Pruden In Step Toward Welter Title Bout

CLEVELAND, Dec. 9 (AP)—Chuck Davey, who's found a hard left hook can earn him more folding money than his master's degree brings him from college teaching, risks his welterweight title hopes here tomorrow night against Fitzie Pruden of Paterson, N. J.

Davey, an Olympic boxer in 1948, turned pro the next year and since then has put together a string of 37 victories and two draws. He is aiming for a welterweight title bout with Kid Gavilan early next year.

Pruden, at 24, two years younger than Davey, has been in the pro ring longer. In five years he has won 56 of 65 fights and never has been counted out. Five of his defeats resulted from eye-cuts.

The Davey-Pruden scrap features the Cleveland News' 27th annual toyshop fund benefit, which is expected to attract a crowd of 15,000 to the arena. A 10-rounder, the bout will be televised (CBS) nationally at 10 p. m., Pottstown time.

Second-billing on the toyshop card goes to a 10-round middleweight scrap between Rocky Castellani of Luzerne, Pa., and Jimmy Flood, New York City Irishman. Flood has a record of only one loss in 46 fights, and Castellani almost equals that with 38 victories in 40 starts.

Tomlinson chipped in with a gift.

GODSHALL'S jumper and a follow-up goal by Ken Hager brought S-P back to 54-52 with 1:25 left, but Tomlinson dropped in the second of two foul tosses with 27 seconds left and made a layup just before the bell to cinch matters. The win was the second in a row for the Yellow Jackets, who downed Quakertown, 53-51, the past Friday.

In the preliminary, the UP jays won out, 40-27 as Ray Fluck netted 11 points. They have a 1-1 log now.

Pirates Get Him

Former All-American football star at Ohio State and a semi pro catcher, Vic Janowicz of Elyria, O., has signed a contract to play baseball with the Pittsburgh Pirates next season. Janowicz, who reportedly received a sizable bonus, was as well known for his baseball ability in high school as for his football.

Last Call for SS Loop Entries Tonight

Tonight's Sunday School basketball league meeting will be the final chance for a team to gain entry into the at present five club loop, director Jack Kurtz announced last night.

All managers are requested to attend the 8 o'clock meeting at the Franklin school.

In the warmup tilts, Trinity and Grace vie at 7, with Transfiguration holding its own practice at 8. Any new teams will be able to practice tonight also. The league will open Wednesday, Dec. 17, Kurtz said.

Bill Dietrich was the last pitcher on the Chicago White Sox to hurl a no-hitter. It was against the Browns on June 1, 1937.

In Memoriam
CROSS—In loving memory of my wife, Lillian B. Cross, who died December 10, 1951. No one knows how much I miss you, no one knows the pain I have suffered since you left me. Life has never been the same. I have my heart your memory. Sweetly, tenderly, fondly and true, there is not a day that goes by that I do not think of you. Dear, loved and sadly missed by her husband, ISAAC CROSS.

MARCH—In loving memory of Earl March, who passed away 14 years ago today, December 10, 1938. You are gone Earl but not forgotten by your mother, DAD, SISTER and BROTHER.

SCHOCH—Bertha—In memory of my mother who died 8 years ago today, December 10, 1944. Just to sit and talk a while, and feel in the silence, and see your understanding smile. But since I can't be with you, I'll do the next best thing. And spend the day with you in my heart. I miss you. Dear, loved and sadly missed by Daughter RUTH ELAINE.
